HOMER SMITH, 300 ON BOARD COLLIDES WITH GIANT PACKET ON OHIO RIVER

EXCURSION BOAT SLIGHTLY DAMAGED, CREWS' COOLNESS PREVENTS LOSS OF LIFE

EXTRA

Vevay, Indiana, July 27—Three hundred excursionists on the excursion steamer Homer Smith were badly frightened when the packet City of Louisville collided with the Homer Smith in the Ohio river near Vevay early today.

The coolness of the excursion boat's crew, it is said, prevented a panic. Four women fainted. Both steamers were only slightly damaged. The packet, it is said, was endeavoring to pass the Homer Smith when the current threw her against the other craft demolishing a part of the packet's wheel house.

In an endeavor to get away she rammed the Smith and stripped a number of buckets from her wheel. The Homer Smith was enroute to Vevay to unload her passengers and the City of Louisville was making her regular trip to Cincinnati.

Cincinnati, July 27.—Captain J. R. Martin of the Steamer City of Louisville, which arrived here today, said there was nothing serious in the collision of his boat and the excursion steamer Homer Smith. "It is a river trick for one boat to run up alongside the wheel of another going in the same direction and be drawn along," he said. "It was not our fault though. The Louisville was the faster boat. The Homer Smith ran into us."

Most of the one hundred Cincinnati passengers on the Louisville were asleep and did not know a collision had occurred. On the report of others, however,nited States Inspector of Steamboats J. K. Peyton, of the Cincinnati district, announced he would summon the masters of the boats here for an investigation. "The boats may have been racing," he said. "Sometimes they do for the amusement of the passengers."

The Homer Smith left Portsmouth about the middle of May after having been on excursion duty here for several months. It is reported that in the crew are a number of Portsmouth people.

This Concerns Frank And Ed, No More "Hosses" For Them

LETS BUY 'EM ED-
ITS A LONG WAY T' FARMER JONESES
THE HOSS
PRIMEVAL OAKS AND POPLARS.
TO FARMER JONES'S 2 MILES
THE BUGGY, TREE AND HARNESS STILL THERE - BUT THE HOSS WAS GONE.

Ex-Prosecutor Frank Moulton, and ex-merchant, ex-farmer and now gentleman of leisure, Edward Cunningham, will forever steer clear of Bear Creek, if their experience of a few days ago impresses them as it does their friends.

Frank and Ed, both good fellows, and both having a very keen perception of the timber business as a side issue, borrowed a horse from Ex-Representative Chan Moulton, of Lucasville, by gosh, and incidentally the honored sire of the ex-prosecutor.

Ed and Frank were soon making sun grins as that hoss pulled them over the rough and rugged roads to Bear Creek—so named, it is said, because Chan Moulton in his barefoot youth, discovered a bruin track along the creek when he was baiting for sun fish.

Well, that hoss, which was guaranteed to stand without hitchin', plugged along until the classic banks of Bear Creek were reached. He was securely tied to a sappling, the overhanging branches of which meant plenty of shade.

Then Frank and Ed began their journey afoot to the stretch of timber they expected to view with the prospect of purchasing. They saw the timber, massive oak and towering poplar, and came back congratulating themselves over the outlook, declaring they could clean up a nice sum on the proposition.

However, all dreams of avarice soon faded into the cruel realistic that the hoss had vamoosed. Probably an automobile came along, and the hoss became so frightened that he stripped himself of the harness, and in his mad maneuvers upset the buggy, which process made the four wheels want to track in as many different directions.

Frank and Ed were more than two miles from a farm house, and then began a journey that in strenuosity equalled the trip Hannibal's men made while crossing the Alps. The two gentlemen took turns at pulling and shoving that buggy, and when they reached Farmer Jones' home were well nigh tuckered. In the meantime Frank had been using language something like this "!!!- "';|;! !!);'!!!. *')-!!('@!!! And Ed chimed in with several amens.

Farmer Jones, by the way, had corraled that runaway hoss, had carefully stabulated him, and provided him with a sufficient supply of nutritious corn and hay.

Well, to make a long story come to an end, the hoss was hitched up with the patched harness, the axles of the buggy straightened after a fashion and Frank and Ed were finally enabled to reach Portsmouth, their starting point.

Next time Ed and Frank go on a timber hunt, they will go afoot or hire a jitney—no more hoss for them.

Haitian Rebels Rout President, Take City

Port au Prince, Haiti, July 27. —The revolutionary movement against President Guillaume which broke out under the leadership of Dr. Rosolvo Bobo last March showed itself in Port au Prince today.

After several hours of fighting at the presidential residence where Guillaume made a courageous defense against the revolutionists the president took refuge in the French legation whither he had been preceded by the members of his family. The palace was on fire before Guillaume decided to seek refuge under the flag of France. Rebellious troops of the government attacked the palace at 4 o'clock and continued firing upon it for two hours. The president was supported by a few loyal troops and the members of his personal staff. General Oscar, governor of Port au Prince continued his resistance at the palace even after Guillaume had left, but his situation soon became untenable and he was obliged to take refuge in the Dominican legation.

Included among the victims of the attack on the presidential residence was the chief of police of Port au Prince.

The exact number of casualties has not yet been determined, but it is believed to be heavy.

At 10:30 the rifle firing was about over and officials and citizens went out upon the streets to take stock of the damage in lives and property. The city was in the possession of the revolutionists. The movement was started by a regiment of soldiers who had been disbanded by President Guillaume and who resented this treatment.

The steamer Eastland overturned at its dock in Chicago river as it started for Michigan City, Ind., at 7:40 a. m., Saturday, loaded with more than 2000 employes of the Western Electric Co., their families and friends, for a day's outing.

THE CAUSE.

Not yet fully determined, but said to:

1—Overcrowding.
2—Topheavy construction of the boat.
3—Rush of passengers to one rail, putting too much weight on that side of the vessel.
4—Failure to cast off shore lines when tug began to pull steamer from dock.
5—Lack of water ballast.

THE RESULT.

Loss of more than 1000 lives.

Of these, 817 bodies have been recovered and 459 are missing; 1204 were saved. Of the dead, 735 have been identified

THE SEQUEL.

Beginning of six investigations, led by federal grand jury and state grand jury, to fix blame for disaster. Raising of immense fund for relief of families of those who perished.

Chicago, July 27.—With the taking of testimony by the corners's jury the first investigation into the sinking of the steamer Eastland began today.

The state public utilities commission issued an announcement that it would not conduct an investigation as it had planned, the reason being given that the matter was fully covered by other investigators. Secretary of Commerce William C. Redfield arrived today and took up what he promised would be a thorough inquiry.

A short time later attorneys from the United States district attorney's office visited all the men held in custody as witnesses, and obtained statements from them, at the same time subpoenaing them to appear before the federal grand jury which meets Tuesday. Secretary Redfield upon arrival said he welcomed the most searching investigation possible, and that if an inspector were at fault no one was more interested in it than he.

State's Attorney Hoyne also was active in his investigation.

ENGLAND PREPARES ANOTHER NOTE

Washington, July 27—Sir Edward Grey cabled Secretary Lansing today the British government has in preparation another note to the United States on the orders in council and asked that the note delivered yesterday be withheld from publication pending receipts of the new communication. Therefore yesterday's note will not be published tomorrow morning, as had been planned.

No indication of the nature of the forthcoming note was given in Sir Edward's cable, and state department officials have no intimation. They assume, however, that it is of a supplementary nature. The development will further delay dispatch of the American note to Great Britain on the same subject.

Secretary Lansing had about finished it and it was to be sent to President Wilson at Cornish, N. H., for his approval. It will not be dispatched until the new British note has been received and considered.

Then, he said, he learned that she was employed in the Faig home as a domestic and he stopped his visits.

A Mrs. Easter, who was in the party was not arrested as she had a small baby to care for. Mrs. Easter runs a boarding house and Miss Sarah Howard and Mr. Brown had made their home with her. Brown took his clothes and left Monday. Mrs. Easter, Sarah Howard and William Van Kirk were coming from Lakeside, walking the street car tracks. They met Brown and Ada Ward just east of the power house, going towards Lakeside. Then the trouble started. Angered by seeing Brown with another woman Mrs. Easter started calling him names and a scrap followed. Homer Leichner happened along at the time and tried to part the fighting couples but for his trouble he received a blow from Brown. By this time the officers arrived and arrested the five. Brown and the Ward woman were very loving after being locked up, Brown kissing her several times through the cell door. A large crowd gathered at the jail to watch the pair. They were still in Tuesday and did not seem to mind being locked up.

New Boston Council

The accepting of an ordinance and three resolutions and heated argument between Mayor Davis and three councilmen comprised the work of New Boston council Monday evening when a special session was held. All members were present.

Village Engineer Sam Harper presented a plat and profile of Glenwood addition that is being laid out in Turkey Hollow, north of Gallia pike. L. D. York is having the addition laid out.

After careful consideration council passed an ordinance accepting the plat.

A motion that the Central National Bank be named as the depository for village funds was passed. The Central National Bank's bid was 2¼ per cent per annum, the same as the other three bids submitted by the Portsmouth Banking Company, Ohio Valley Bank and First National Bank. The Central National will be the depository from August 1, 1915 to December 1, 1917.

A resolution was passed directing the clerk to re-advertise for bids for furnishing the village with fire engines, building and equipment. Bids were advertised for on April 5th but all were rejected.

A resolution was passed specifying the kind of tile to be used; determining the lowest and best bid; accepting bid of Kelly Bros.; awarding contract to Kelly Bros. and authorizing the signing of contract for construction of "Main Sewer No. 1." Three ft. length tile will be used. Kelly Bros. bid was $4363.85.

Member Charles Dixon dug up the war hatchet by asking Mayor Davis what had been done in the matter of the Lou Rice appointment, an appointment that has not been approved by council. Mayor Davis informed council that Rice was still working on his orders to do so and that the village would have to pay him.

Dixon took the same view of the matter as members Harr and Fitch who voiced their opinion last Monday that Rice was not a voter of the village and that he was not a resident and that there were a number of tax payers in the village who would like to have the job. Rice recently moved to the village from Ashland, Ky. Mayor Davis again informed the three councilmen that they were only after a vote but they just as quickly jumped to their feet and denied the statement, saying that they did not want anything but what was right and just for the village.

The matter was brought to an end when Dixon made a motion that Rice be paid in full, up to and including Monday night and that the mayor and clerk be authorized to notify Mr. Rice that there would be no money coming to him from the village for deputy marshal work after July 26th. Mayor Davis refused to put the motion before council and vacated the chair. President pro tem Frank Wolfe took the chair and put the motion which was passed. Council then adjourned to meet in regular session Monday, Aug. 2.

Services At The Y. M. C. A. Tabernacle

The revival services being conducted at the Y. M. C. A. tabernacle by Evangelist O. L. King and wife resulted in the conversion of one soul last night. Evangelist King preached a stirring sermon from the scripture in Hebrews 2:1-3. "Therefore we ought to give the more earnest heed to the things which we have heard lest at any time we should let them slip. For if the word spoken by angels was stedfast and every transgression and disobedience received a just recompence of reward; how shall we escape, if we neglect so great a salvation?" The subject under discussion was "The Great Salvation." The Evangelist spoke in part as follows: "Salvation is great because of three great facts. First, man's great need of it. Second, the great cost of obtaining it and making it possible for men. Third, great, because of what it does for the lives of men. Salvation is the greatest thing in the world. People are demanding pure food of every kind. Laws are made to prevent adulterations. We have a pure salvation to offer the world. A salvation not adulterated by sin. People are looking and hunting for the goods that will wear the longest and give the best service. Salvation lasts through this life and an endless eternity. Salvation is the biggest and best thing this side of heaven. God looked upon the earth and saw that the wickedness of man was very great in the earth and that the thoughts and intentions of their heart were only evil continually, so says the bible. Jesus volunteered to come to earth and redeem this lost world. If we could wipe this great salvation off the slate tonight and let this old world stand naked before God without any hope of redemption, we would have the darkest picture of utter misery, woe and that without hope that we could imagine, but through Jesus Christ man's need of redeemer was met and at how great a cost. This salvation is great because of the great price that was paid to obtain it for lost humanity and make it free for all, the high folks, the low folks, the rich folks, the poor folks, the folks of every nation, color and tongue. It cost the best of heaven—God's only son—for God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten son that whosoever believeth in His should not perish but have everlasting life. Third, salvation is great because of what it does for the lives of men and women. This salvation has been tried out. Men have tried it. Men know by experience what it has done for their lives and what it will do for the lives of all who will surrender their lives into the hands of the lowly Nazarene. People are taking mud baths, Keeley cures, no-to-bac and many other cures to get rid of the results of sin, to repair the damage done to their lives by indulging in the things that belong to the devil, but I have to offer you tonight a blood cure that will solve every difficulty. A good wholesome case of salvation will do more to make men and women than anything in this whole universe.

In closing the evangelist urged the people to put this Great Salvation to the test, to try it out, to taste and see that the Lord is good and to consider seriously the question "How shall we escape if we neglect so great a salvation?"

Services each night beginning at 7:30.

Referendum Petitions Here On Sprague Gerrymander Bill

Referendum petitions to submit the Sprague gerrymander bill to a vote of the people at the November election have made their appearance on the streets and are being freely signed.

The petitions are in the hands of the Democratic central and executive committeemen. This referendum is the only one that has the formal approval of the State Democratic Committee.

Under the constitution redistricting is to be done after the Federal census. Ohio at the time of the last redistricting had twenty-one congressmen. An increase in population in 1910 gave the state one more or twenty-two congressmen. The Democrats in redistricting the state did so as to insure ten Democratic and ten Republican congressmen and two debatable. Thus at the last election the Republicans elected fourteen congressmen and the Democrats eight. Not satisfied with this representation the Republicans have worked up gerrymander which would insure them possibly sixteen congressmen and the Democrats only three, leaving three districts debatable. Many Republicans are signing the petitions, realizing as they do that the bill if it becomes effective as a law will mean the retirement of Congressman Charles C. Kearnes, who is serving his first term for he will be placed in a hopelessly Democratic district and his friends here will have no chance again to vote for him. Scioto county would be placed back in the old Tenth district with Vinton county added for good measure.

Cranston Locke Is After Local Wireless Station

Relative to a news story sent out from Washington, D. C., some time ago that there was soon to be an inland distribution of weather forecasts by wireless, and that Portsmouth would probably be one of the cities to have a station, Cranston Locke, son of Dr. L. G. Locke, of Gallia street, wrote to J. F. Dillon, Radio Inspector of the Department of Commerce at Cleveland, inquiring about the regulations of a local wireless station.

Young Locke received a letter from Mr. Dillon, Monday, in which he said "the department is encouraging the maintenance of efficient amateur stations throughout the zones where floods are liable to damage life and property. The department has granted the use of wave lenths up to and including 425 meters to such stations with inputs not to exceed 2 K. W."

A number of blank forms for licenses were also sent. If Locke succeeds in getting the local station, it will be much to his credit. There is no compensation with the position, but it is quite honorary, as he will be allowed to use over twice as much power as other amateurs. The chief use of the wireless would be in time of flood or storm when help is wanted quickly. The weather and river reports would be received every day.

Locke will fill out the necessary blanks and send them to Mr. Dillon, and word from that official will be anxiously awaited by Locke, who will have to spend quite a neat little sum to equip his station with the necessary apparatus to handle the reports.

Marguerite Clark in "The Pretty Sister of Jose" Columbia tonight

In the title role of "The Pretty Sister of Jose," Frances Hodgson Burnett's charming romance of old Spain, and Maude Adams' former starring vehicle, the dainty star, Marguerite Clark, attains one of her greatest screen triumphs. The role is one in which every resource and power of the magnetic little star is brought into effective play, and she takes the fullest advantage of her many emotional opportunities. As the tiny, exquisite Spanish girl of a thousand moods and whims, who has vowed never to lose her heart, but who, when finally conquered by the handsome Sebastino, loves truly and devotedly, Miss Clark is utterly incomparable, and denotes exceedingly well the struggle in the girl's heart to maintain a haughty demeanor toward the man she has learned to adore, while longing to yield to the impulses of her love. With her fascinating dark beauty and charming grace of form and motion, Miss Clark is exceptionally adapted to the role of the dainty little dark-eyed belle of Madrid. The scenic environments of California, where the subject was produced, lends itself faithfully to the atmosphere of the story, and its rapidly changing development, with its wealth of color and romance, has resulted in a thoroughly unusual and picturesque photo play.

On account of the warm weather, Manager Tynes announces ALL SEATS AT 10 CENTS for today. The first show will begin promptly at 6:30, then at 8:30 and 9:30.

Remember Miss Clark always holds a big reception at the Columbia and you had better come early.

"The Heart of a Painted Woman," a five part motion picture production, adapted from the original story of the same name, has been put into motion pictures by the Popular Plays and Players company, and comes to the Columbia tomorrow.

Mme. Olga Petrova, one of the stage's most brilliant and versatile stars, will be seen in the principal role, supported by an admirable cast of well-known players.

This is Mme. Petrova's second appearance under the banner of the Popular Plays and Players company, the first appearance having been made in "The Tigress." "The Heart of a Painted Woman" is on the Metro program and is considered one of the real gems in the field of motion pictures. Don't forget this great picture tomorrow.

Charlie Chaplin At The Lyric Tonight

Tonight's program at the Lyric consists of a three reel Edison dramatic special, "Her Vocation." This picture will royally entertain you every minute it is on the screen. Sally Crute and Agustus Phillips are the stars. Then there will be our funny friend, Charlie Chaplin, and a side-cracking Vitagraph comedy with Wally Van, Cissy Fitzgerald and the whole Vitagraph funny bunch. Look for the "Wishing Ring" on Thursday next. It is one of the classiest productions ever brought to town.

At The Sun Today

Mothers, we want you to see and make your own decision, put yourself in Miss Nansen's position, would you tell?

This William Fox production of "Should a Mother Tell?" is remarkable for its fidelity to detail and atmosphere. As is customary in all Fox pictures, the sets were carefully laid out by the art director, who is, of course, an expert on all manner of period furniture, costumes and the other little details that go to make a perfect photoplay.

In "Should a Mother Tell?" the supervision of detail was taken charge of by Rex Ingram, the author of the book. Mr. Ingram spent considerable time in France engaged in literary work and during spare moments made some charming little sketches of the interior of the quaint little inn he stopped at. These pictures stood him in good stead in the making of "Should a Mother Tell?" And as a result, the interior sets of the photoplay are remarkable for their fidelity to detail.

Incidentally, Claire Whitney, the beautiful and talented actress who plays the part of the Baroness Gauntier in this sensational photodrama, surprised everybody by her ability as a scenic artist. She and Mr. Ingram were discussing the quaintness of the furniture in the homes of the Brittany peasant. While Mr. Ingram was describing the interior of a little fisherman's hut, she seemed to be making aimless marks on the back of a card with a pencil. When he had finished his description, she held out the card with a smile and asked, "Did it look like this?" On the card was an idealization of the house Mr. Ingram had been describing.

At The Exhibit

"The Children of the Sea" is a strong two reel drama that is being offered as the headliner at the Exhibit tonight. It is a powerful story, gripping in plot, very high in character and a picture that all can enjoy. "Beautiful Love" is a Komic that also is included in the bill.

Tomorrow everybody has a laugh coming. Manager Law has booked one of those big Keystone comedy features. There is a laugh in every inch of those two long reels of film. Just think of it, every time the machine turns and a new scene goes on the screen you just have to laugh. That is all there is to it. Fatty Arbuckle, the big heavy weight comedian, is in this picture. Enuff said. Don't fail to see it tomorrow night — "Fatty's Plucky Pup."

Charley Chaplin, the Laugh Maker at the Arcana Theatre Tonight

The many admirers of Charley Chaplin, the world's leader as a laugh maker, will be seen at the Arcana theatre tonight in one of his latest screams. That you will enjoy the program goes without saying, for who is it that can sit through a Chaplin production and not laugh until his sides are sore. Come tonight and see Charlie in his very latest production. In addition to the Chaplin feature, Manager Potts will show a two reel drama and a Nestor comedy. And the beauty about the whole affair is that the admission is only five cents. Cool, invigorating air fanned into the theatre at all times, while a battery of electric fans adds to the comfort of all Arcana patrons. Nice roomy and comfortable seats—now, why not join the big army of Arcana boosters.

At The Pastime

The management of the Pastime theatre in Sciotoville announces a change of policy in operating its shows. Instead of showing every night in the week the Pastime will be open only on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday nights.

In addition to the regular program the management announces that it will run Charlie Chaplin comedies every Tuesday and Thursday night. Watch for Thursday's show.

At The Majestic

"The Stolen Will," featuring Ethel Grandin is the all absorbing drama that is being offered as the headliner at the Majestic theatre tonight. It is a gripping drama with many tense scenes and exciting moments and full of heart interest. "Heinie and Louie," the great comedians, who are making more of a hit every night are offering another comedy tonight. Tomorrow's picture is entitled "In His Daddy's Footsteps," a two reeler.

Temple Theatre

For 5c you can see "The Soul of Phyra," a drama of the occult, founded on Brahmin mysiticism, starring Enid Markey. The third reel is a comedy entitled, "Not a Ghost of a Show." The fourth reel is our mutual weekly. Wednesday, July 28th, we exhibit another series of the "New Exploits of Elaine," featuring Pearl White and Arond Daly.

At The Scenic

Cleo Ridgely, in the Kalem two-act feature, "The Diamond Broker," is the headliner on tonight's interesting program at the Scenic. It is a thrilling drama that is bound to please. The third reel is an Essanay drama called "A Night in Kentucky," featuring Ruth Stonehouse. "Whose Husband?" a screamingly funny Vitagraph comedy featuring Kate Price, Jay Dwiggins and Flora Finch, will close the show. If you like good pictures, don't miss this show. Tomorrow's feature is the Lubin three reel feature, "The White Mask," with Lillie Leslie and Joseph Smiley in the leading parts.

Strand Theatre

Wm. Garwood and Violet Mersereau are featured in "You Can't Always Tell", a strong Imp. two reel comedy drama. The film story is laid in a New York apartment house and fairly setlhes with exciting situations. See Billy Rhodes and Jack Dillon in one of those pleasing Nestor comedies "With Father's Help."

To wind up this all comedy program we will present "Universal Ike" in a strong Western comedy called "The New Cook."

HAS NOTHING ON US.

The Sun thinks Springfield is going to enter upon an era of unparalled prosperity and growth because she is the only Ohio city that has not been ravaged by a flood. A pleasant vista of the future, indeed, but not as substantial as the Sun opines. A flood doesn't hurt so much as reckoned and it has its compensations. Since the overwhelming inundation of two years ago, Portsmouth has been the healthiest in its hundred years of existence and epidemics of diseases have been unknown. In fact there have been months when there was not a case of contagious disease reported, a condition most unusual, if at all, experienced before the flood.

And though most completely overwhelmed by the waters, with the wheels of every industry at poise, business suspended and her thousands roosting upstairs, Portsmouth was not overwhelmed in either spirit or prospect. Her growth has continued steady and even quite rapid, splendid improvements have been completed or put under way, and in every essential she is bigger, better and more buoyant than ever before.

Yes, floods may come and they may go, as they have a habit of doing, but a good town, rightly located on water goes on forever. It is the law of concentration that a metropolis must be located on water of consequence. Look at New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, St. Louis, New Orleans, the Twin Cities, St. Paul, and Minneapolis. What is true of the metropolis is equally true of the smaller city. So Springfield, having no stream much more important than Funk's gut, hasn't any advantage over the rest of us occasionally wet towns by that fact, to the contrary she is by that same token at a distinct disadvantage.

THE RIGHT METHOD.

The shocking toll demanded by our two rivers, nine persons having lost their lives therein so far this year, makes imperative that persons making recovery within a short time of these apparently drowned, should know the best method of resuscitation. This is not, as so commonly believed, rolling over a log, or beating the body with the flat hand. To the contrary physicians claim more deaths than recoveries are caused by these. So it is advised that as soon as the body is brought out of the water it be laid flat on the stomach with the arms extended forward. Then let someone get astride the form and place his hands just below the ribs move them up towards the shoulders, keeping the process up steadily for as long at least as an hour if there is no return to breathing and consciousness in the meantime.

THE WAVERLY FAIR.

Waverly is going to have a great fair August 4, 5 and 6. Already there have been so many entries that the capacity of the buildings will be taxed to take care of them, but the management say that they will meet any emergencies and care for all who may come. We hope that a good many Portsmouth people will take in the fair. It is only a short distance away and it will do you good to rub elbows with our neighbors up the valley. Go up and see what they can raise and what they can make and above all meet with as clever a set of men and women as you will find anywhere on earth.

Well, did you ever. Here comes one of these pestiferous government expert fellows and warns us the old arm chair is a menace to health and what not! Breeds heart disease, kidney trouble and fatty degeneration of the heart. But bad as all this is, it is by no means all. For the government feller forgets to tell us in it is rocked the kid, who later along poses as an expert at an annual stipend.

We eat too much. Familiar headline these days to ponderous fulminations on summer diet. What's the difference, so long as the grocery bills are paid. It all washes out in the law of general average. For if some eat too much, there are others that eat too little because they can't get enough.

Young Doc Sellards, the original Willis man, can find consolation in the fact that while he did not get a job at Columbus, at least he was privileged to welcome a fine little daughter on the very same day that his erstwhile friend and co-laborer in the cause, Hon. George Ditty, was connected with a Two Thousand Dollar salary from the state treasury.

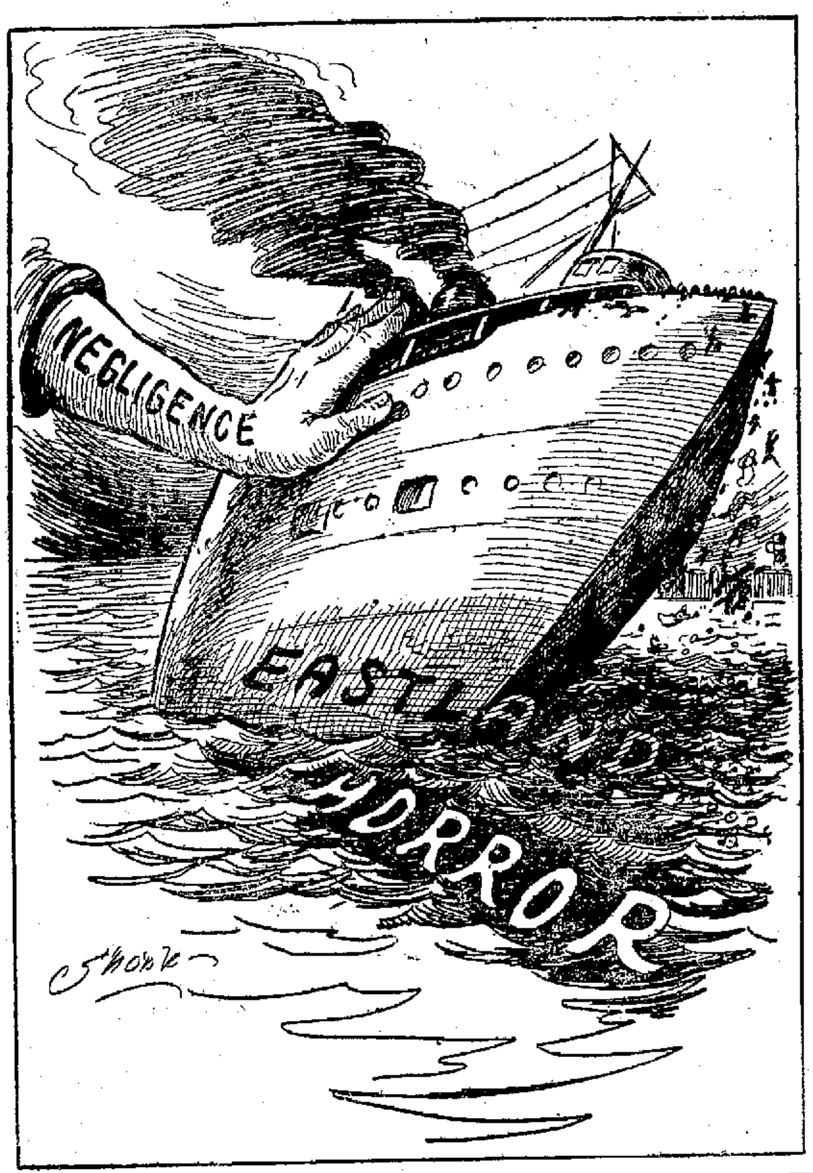
That straw vote seemed to indicate that McCormick was far and away in the lead for the Republican nomination for mayor, but take our tip for what it is worth and keep an eye on Kaps when the real votes are counted out. His crowd are noted for being great finishers and will bear watching.

Illinois offers three presidential candidates to the G. O. P. She is modest, but not so much so, as Ohio, which has one real candidate, one receptive and another that is trying to make believe he is. Neither of the first two is our good young Governor.

The best advice we have seen this torrid weather is that offered by the Star of Portsmouth, Va., which adjures the press to give Bryan a rest.

We have our doubts about the sanity of Harry Thaw since he now says he has become immune against the charm of woman.

EVIDENTLY THE CAUSE.



A THREEFOLD PURPOSE.

A Brown county farmer told the Georgetown Democrat, one day last week, that he had just harvested, from the pike along his place, hauled and stored in his barn two as fine big loads of blue grass as were ever cut.

We do not feel we are taking any risk in making the guess that this same farmer is one of the most prosperous in a county noted for its successful husbandmen. For the harvesting from the particular place shows his thrift and prudence in three ways. That the crop was of unusual quality shows he kept the ground clear of weeds and thus saved the seeds spreading over his lands and doing damage to other crops, or entailing extra labor in keeping out the consequent tares. He made a handsome profit out of what would otherwise have been and is altogether usually waste ground, and last but not least, he has made his place most attractive of all his neighbors and increased its value by appearances.

There is much lamentation these days that the tillable lands are exhausted and we are nearing a condition where we will not be able to produce enough to feed the nation. Little instances like this show how fallacious is such an alarm. There are veritably millions of acres, just like the patch out of which the Brown county man made a good profit lying idle and unused, enough, of a truth, if we farmed intensely like the Europeans do, to support the entire present population of the United States.

Just an idea. It is estimated by one of these eternal figurers that it costs 61 cents to stop and start a train, so why wouldn't it be a good thing for autoists to raise a fund and have all trains stop on "yander" side of all crossings.

John Wanamaker wants one hundred men to put a million a piece into buying Belgium. Count us out. We wouldn't think it worth one hundred cents without a quit claim title from Der Kaiser.

Sunday evening, in a ride out the paved portion of the Scioto Trail and back 128 automobile were counted. And it wasn't a particularly good evening for automobiles either.

The motorists are learning caution. The telegraph carried news of only one fatal accident for Sunday.

Uncle Sam will eliminate the bicycle and motorcycle from his mail service on the first of January next. Thereafter only Shanks' mare, the horse and the automobile will go in the city and rural delivery service.

A woman in New York swung a dizzy gait for a month as the putative widow of Henry M. Flagler, of Florida, the man, who all by himself built a railroad costing 'way up into the millions. Of course, she was from Ohio, and a couple of years ago she was a cook in one of "the best old families" at Painesville.

WHAT WE ARE WORTH.

Those fellows over at Washington, who make a specialty of delving into and divulging data, occasionally emit something in the way of figures, that instead of being dry as dust, is teeming with interest and vitality. For example the bulletin just issued under the title of "Estimated Valuation of National Wealth," tells us each living soul in the country, men, women, boys and girls and even the its, small babies, is worth $1,965.

That makes us the richest per capita of any on earth, with France, England and Belgium ranking just below, in the order named. Contrary to general impression Germany was fifth, but rapidly advancing at a ratio nearly as great as our own, prior to the outbreak of war. And which state in all the forty-eight do you think is the wealthiest? None other than little sand blistered, flea-bitten Nevada, and Mississippi, with the most fertile lands of them all, but with no big cities, where wealth does most congregate, the poorest of them all. But now blush to hear it. Our own beautiful, boastful Ohio, stands over half way down towards the foot of the class. In other words she is twenty-six.

Now, understand you, we are all worth $1,965 a piece, that is taking the aggregate wealth of the nation and dividing it by the total of population, gives every one that much, is the per capita wealth as the figurers put it. But being worth $1,965 and having what you are worth as a citizen, a part of the community as a whole, and having the same as an individual, are two entirely different propositions. If you don't believe that, just run your hand down in your jeans, or hand-bag and see if you can dig up anything like $1,965.

The towpath will be finished by the first of November, if not later.

Sketches of Little OLD NEW YORK by O.O. McIntyre

New York, July 27.—Since Old Doc Flint spilled a few beans about insanity and its various ramifications many are wondering who is looney now. In fact life's little lunatics seem to be disturbing everybody.

Organists, so experts declare, become insane more frequently than trombonists, bootblacks, hod-carriers, street sweepers and writers. If this is true—and it probably isn't—one wag wonders if the mental derangement is not caused by calculating the time between the conductor's beat and the emission of sound from the organ.

J. A. Waldon, of Puck, has a craving for two ice cream sodas or so during the hot weather and he is wondering what favorite form of insanity he has. A gentleman from New Jersey walked into a police station in New York the other morning and said he was beginning to feel a little milky in the filbert.

"What trend does your paranoia take?" said the desk officer, showing that he was up on the snappy and zippy stuff.

"Well," said the Jerseyite, "I get up every morning feeling that I will surely get a seat on the subway train when I come to New York."

He was locked up without further parley.

Raymond Hitchcock follows Billie Burke with a snap of his fingers for the legitimate stage. The long haired comedian has signed up with a film company and declares that he doubts very much if he will ever return to the legitimate stage.

He declared that he liked studio work much better and that as long as there was big money in it—he should worry. No word has come yet from George M. Cohan who has been frivoling away four or five hours a day writing a play for Hitchcock.

Nellie Revelle, most famous of women press agents, has resigned as editor of the vaudeville section of the Morning Telegraph, to return to publicity disseminating with the Orpheum Circuit.

Miss Revelle was the right hand ma — a—a——pardon — woman when Percy Williams owned the theatres now owned by the Keith people. Anna Marble, who in private life is Mrs. Channing Pollock, was also considered one of Broadway's best press agents and was the originator of the sensational style of advertising which made the Hippodrome famous.

Mrs. Pollock decided one day that Channing was making too much money writing plays so she resigned to help him spend it. Since that time she has received huge offers to return to press work.

Toto, innocent child of the jungle until the gay night life of Broadway led him astray, has been found, wiser but repentant and Lady Grace Mackenzie, African explorer and big game huntress, has forgiven him. Toto went for a ride in the park with Fred Eeles, until lately Lady Mackenzie's secretary.

A few hours later Eeles telephoned that Toto had been drinking rum along the Great White Way and smashing hats. Later Toto and Eeles became separated and Eeles was arrested for listing too far to the starboard.

The monkey was later found swinging from electric light pole to electric light pole in front of a garish uptown theatre, while the belated pedestrians looked on. When a policeman lassoed Toto he seemed to say: "Officer this is the life."

"French Airmen Over Essen" —Evening Sun headline. Gluttons!

One of the big down-town hotels lost a wash room attendant the other day. He did not show up for work and the house detective made some inquiries regarding him. It developed that he had bought a hotel of his own in New Jersey paying $10,000 therefor. It represented money he had saved from tips.

He always moved his family to the country or the shore.
Yet though they breathed the country air, or whiffed the ocean breeze,
The Misses and the seven kids were always ill at ease.
They moped about their cottages, they lolled around hotels,
They got the melancholy look of men in Sing Sing cells.
But soon McArlem figured out the reason for the gloom
That hung upon them like a pall: They all had too much room!

They missed the crowded kitchenette, they missed the two-foot hall,
They missed the continuity of ceiling and of wall,
They could not eat a meal in peace; if they moved back a chair
And tilted it to gain more ease, the wainscot wasn't there.
The kids were always getting lost somewhere around the place,
And all the outfit was oppressed by overwhelming space.
Throughout the dreary summertime they sat around and sighed
For all the inconveniences they'd had on Morningside.

And then an architect appeared, who took a curious pride,
In reproducing Harlem flats around the countryside.
He got in seven rooms and bath, of chicken coop design,
And all upon a building plot of seventeen by nine.
McArlem bought his family one, and in it they have spent
The last few summers by the sea in gratified content.
It has all of the discomforts the McArlems yearned for so.
You'll find it down at Skeeter Beach. It's called a Bungalow!

—James J. Montague.

Disappointed

"I engaged the rooms for my holiday," he said, "because the landlady wrote me that they overlooked a superb garden of 200 acres, richly adorned with statuary, where I was at liberty to promenade."

"Well?" Jones inquired.

"It was a cemetery," he said bitterly.

After The Assay

"I understand you got several wedding gifts."

"We did. At first I thought I'd have to hire a safe deposit vault, but after going over the stuff we simply stored 'em in a barrel in the cellar.—Baltimore News.

A Woman's Way

Mrs. Hasher kept a boarding house, and one day a boarder went to her with several complaints. She listened in silence for a few minutes and then lost her patience.

"Don't I know every one of the tricks of your trade?" he cried. "Do you think I've lived in boarding houses ten years for nothing?"

"Well," replied the landlady calmly, "I shouldn't be surprised."

Then Trouble Began

Mrs. Flatbush—Do you know, John, sometimes you remind me of Napoleon.

Mr. Flatbush—Oh, thank you, dear; you're quite complimentary this morning.

Mr. Flatbush—Why then, dear?

Mrs. Flatbush—Because it is said that Napoleon's hand-writing was so bad that often he could not decipher it himself.—Yonkers Statesman.

Thou Art a Jewel

A lady dances in a ball room,
She shows her shoulders and arms.
Only a bit of ribbon lies
Between the public and her charms.
A scandal if she showed her ankles;
A riot if she showed her knees.
But at the seaside in the summer
Why, you can see them all you please.
But why? What difference can it make?
I cannot see, although I try,
Whether one's frock is cut high below
Or cut below up high.

The Markets

NEW YORK STOCKS

New York, July 27.—A broad buying movement lifted prices quickly in the first half hour of trading today. The demand ran largely to the group of industrials which has figured most prominently in the dealing recently, and a number of new high records were established. United States Steel was bought in blocks of several thousand shares and rose to 65½, an advance of a point and the best figure since it has been on a non-dividend basis. Bethlehem Steel was marked up, Can 1 ⅝ to 61⅞ and Allis Chalmers preferred 1 ⅝ to 68, all new high records.

The railroad list was dull.

The recent chronic weakness of the principal railroad stocks was overcome in the final hour. St. Paul mounted five and a half points and Canadian 5 and others 1 to 3. The closing was strong.

War stocks dominated the market and continued bouyant, despite acute weakness to the copper and motor shares. Speculative sentiment was cheered by the increasing volume of commission house business and the reawakened strength and activity of railroad stocks.

The vigorous recovery of yesterday, following the break on the torpedoing of the Leelanaw, promoted bullish sentiment and taking the industrial list as a whole the intrinsic position of the market seemed to be better. The rise was not limited to war shares, but spread to other specialties. United States Steel was absorbed in large amounts in expectation that the quarterly statement to be given out after the close today would make a highly favorable showing. It was estimated generally that net earnings would be more than twice those of the preceding quarter. Railroad shares played little part in the dealings. Fluctuations were slight and some representative shares were not dealt in.

The advice was well maintained, with further gains in some instances, until shortly before midday when weakness developed in the motor shares and copper. Bonds were steady.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

Chicago, July 27.—Unsettled weather in the domestic harvest region with a forecast of more, led to higher prices today for wheat. There was also a decided falling off in the European visible supply, and it was said the movement hereafter from India would be light on the others and the conditions were against the development of black rust. After opening ½ to 1¼ higher the market scored additional gains then reacted to a moderate extent.

Corn rose with wheat and as a result of the cool temperatures. Pit speculators, however, were sellers on the upturn. Opening prices which ranged from a shade to ¾ higher were followed by a setback and then a rally.

Oats kept within narrow limits. The market reflected the strength though of other grain.

Lower average quotations for hogs weakened provisions. Nevertheless pork was for a time a conspicuous exception.

Subsequently word that black rust was spreading in Minnesota and North Dakota brought about a fresh upturn in wheat. Many reports were received telling of serious damage by wet weather in Kansas, Nebraska and Missouri. The close was strong ⅞ to 1¾ above last night.

The corn market afterward showed strength, influenced by the smallness of country offerings. The close was firm at ½ to ¾ net advance.

Want Order Of Sale Issued

Attorney J. P. Purdum and H. F. Thompson, as receivers for the East End Furniture company, in a statement filed in common pleas court stated that creditors were insisting that the business be wound up in some manner at once and the receivers are asking for an order of sale to be issued. The statement further says that while the receivers have reduced the operating expenses of the store they are unable to conduct the business at a profit.

SCIOTOVILLE IS TO GET NEW $10,000 CHURCH

Following a congregational meeting held by the Sciotoville Christian church, it was announced definitely that this congregation would soon erect a new church in that village, which, when completed, would cost approximately $10,000. A committee composed of James Bush, Edward Basham and Oscar Coriell has been named to have plans prepared for the new house of worship.

After the new church has been occupied for a short time a wing will be added to it and it will be taken over by the Men's Bible class of this rapidly growing church. For the present the congregation will continue to occupy its present quarters, which will be used as a primary room when the new church is completed.

Rev. M. D. Bryant, the new pastor of the church, stated Tuesday that ground for the erection of the new edifice which, is to be complete in every detail, would be broken at the earliest possible time. Rev. Bryant came to Sciotoville two months ago from Rochester, Ind.

Scratched Pimple, Dies In 24 Hours

A small pimple on her face that was indifferently scratched by a brass pin developed blood poison, which brought death in about twenty-four hours to Miss Beulah Coldiron, a stenographer at the Catlettsburg National bank and well-known in Boyd county, said the Huntington Herald Dispatch Tuesday morning.

Miss Coldiron had gone to Oil Springs, Ky., to spend her annual vacation. Friday morning at the breakfast table, a cousin called her attention to a pimple on her nose. The cousin was requested to open it. The operation was slight and no one expected any consequences from a brass pin that was used.

About fifteen minutes later, Miss Coldiron complained of being sick. Her condition soon developed to a serious stage. A physician was summoned and it was announced blood poison had set in. Death came Saturday afternoon.

Miss Coldiron had frequently visited Portsmouth relatives and friends.

EASTLAND CROWDED

Both the federal authorities and the police co-operates with him today.

Mr. Hoyne said he was confident the boat was overloaded.

"I have obtained the stubs of 2,550 tickets, in round numbers collected at the gangway," said Mr. Hoyne. "No children under five years were counted and there were many of these. Of children between five and twelve years two were allowed to go on one ticket. Bodies rescued show that many children of this age went on the boat.

"There were seventy members of the crew and there was an orchestra of at least half a dozen men."

"From all accounts there were scores of children on the boat, only part of whom can be accounted for by the ticket stubs," he said.

The funerals of the victims continued to be held today although the great majority will be buried tomorrow.

The work of searching the river and the Eastland's hull for bodies continued with unabated energy today.

At noon the official list was:

Identified dead 822.

Unidentified 5.

Missing, (Western Electric company list) 393.

Total 1,220.

At the opening of the inquest Coroner Hoffman announced that its object was to ascertain the cause and place the blame where it belongs.

"It is the intention to make a fair, thorough and impartial investigation," said the coroner. Victor Olander, secretary of the Lake Seamen's Union, who had been quoted as denouncing the United States inspection of lake boats, would, it was said, be witness both at the coroner's jury and the grand jury.

Secretary Redfield in a statement issued not only denied that the steamboat inspectors were appointed at the instance of steamboat owners, as had been charged, but also denied that Mr. Olander had ever brought to his attention of the Eastland.

Secretary Redfield in his statement added:

"On my arrival in Chicago this morning I met D. N. Hoover, jr., deputy supervising inspector general of the steamboat inspection service and Captain Charles H. Westcott, the supervising inspector of the eighth district. Both have been notified to appear before the state grand jury.

"Such an inquiry cannot be too sharp to please the steamboat inspection service and the department.

"They were told to lay everything in their possession and knowledge before the state grand jury or any other legal body desiring information. They were instructed to say to the state grand jury that 'I will willingly before any body give them my information in my possession.' They were also instructed to the state grand jury that the inspectors who inspected the boat at South Haven were possibly out of the jurisdiction of the state of Illinois.

"I also instructed them to say that the supervising inspector at Cleveland who had the district under care for some years and is possibly under the state jurisdiction will probably be summoned here if the state grand jury or any other person having authority wishes it."

SALESMAN BADLY HURT WHEN BRAKES BALK AND AUTO UPSETS

Morris Copas, aged 50 years, a traveling salesman for Reilly Bros.', local commission merchants, was perhaps fatally injured in an automobile accident that occurred on the Divide hill, one mile beyond Lombardsville, Tuesday morning about 11 o'clock.

Copas' lower jow-bone of the left side was fractured, three ribs of the left side briken, and it was feared his skull was also fractured, although he never lost consciousness. He also suffered minor bruises.

John Reilly, one of Copas' employers, who was with him at the time of the accident, had his right knee badly hurt, though not fractured, and also sustained multiple body bruises.

The accident was due to the footbrake failing just as the two men were descending the steep hill. Gaining momentum, the car turned over in the middle of the road.

As soon as Mr. Reilly was able to summon help, the injured man was carried to the farmhouse of E. F. Hilton, and in response to hurry calls Drs. H. F. Rapp, of Nauvoo, and O. W. Robe, of this city, went to the scene. Lynn's ambulance left for Lombardsville Tuesday afternoon, via Lucasville, to remove Copas to Hempstead hospital. He is married and lives at West Union, Adams county. He entered the employ of Reilly Bros. about eight months ago.

Walter Robe went after Mr. Reilly and his disabled Ford car, towing it back to the city. The wind-shield was broken, the fender bent and the lamps smashed.

Word from Lombardsville at 3:35 was that Copas was suffering hemorrhages of the head.

The Reilly store force knew nothing of the accident until informed of it by the Times.

New York, July 27.—About 1,500 men who had been on strike several days returned to work today in the plants of the Standard Oil company and the Tidewater Oil company in Bayonne, N. J. Mayor Pierre Garvin and Sheriff Kinkaid declared that the strike was broken and that by tomorrow morning the strikers would be back at work and that several hundred guards who have been protecting the plants could be removed. The sheriff said he was positive an increase in pay would be granted the employees before the end of this week.

About five thousand men have been idle since the strike began in the plant of the Standard Oil company. As a result of this strike and of disorders in which several of the strikers and their sympathizers were shot and killed, employees of the Tidewater Oil company quit work, it was said, unwillingly. The return of the men to work followed Sheriff Kinkead's action yesterday in taking command of English speaking strikers and obtaining their vote to go back to work after he had received J. J. Bally, their leader.

Sheriff Kinkead had 665 uniformed policemen and guards stationed about the Standard oil plant when the men went to work today. For six blocks a guard was stationed every fifty feet and on every corner was a policeman with a rifle. A crowd of several hundred men who gathered near the oil works was dispersed by the sheriff. Two arrests were made but there was no disorder and the sheriff appeared to have absolute control.

Many of the alien employees followed the English speaking strikers as they entered the oil plant and the sheriff was confident that all the foreigners would go back to work.

The strike was begun to force a demand for a 10 percent in wages.

PORTSMOUTH FAILS TO HELP MINERS

Columbus, July 27.—Another carload of food was shipped to Corning by the adjutant general s department today to be used in feeding needy coal miners in that district. The shipment went in a baggage car attached to a Toledo and Ohio Central passenger train. Offers of free transportation have been made by the Hocking Valley railroad. Soap, salt, rice, baking powder, potatoes and soda were included in today's shipment, besides the usual quantity of flour, coffee, beans, bread and condensed milk.

Additional contributions of money and food were received today from several small cities. No word regarding contributions to the miners' relief fund has come from Cleveland, Cincinnati, Dayton, Akron, Lima, Springfield, Zanesville, Newark, Portsmouth or other of the larger cities.

BRITISH CASUALTY LIST IS 330,995

London, July 27.—The casualties in the British army and navy have reached a total of 330,995, according to a printed statement issued by Premier Asquith.

The total naval casualties up to July 20 were 9,106 and the military casualties to July 18 were 321,889. The naval losses were divided as follows: Officers killed 449; wounded 87; missing 20; men killed 7,430; wounded 787; missing 274.

GERMANS PLAN BIG MOVE NEAR WARSAW

London, July 27—The magnitude of the German enveloping movement in the Eastern field now is absorbing the interest of the British official public.

The Times declares human history can show no parallel to the tremendous extent of this enveloping movement, which it says involves results to Russia and the Western Allies comparing with Russia's resistance to a Mongol invasion. The Times believes the operations are a real danger not alone to Warsaw but to the whole system of railway defenses of which the city is the center, and that it now is apparent that the Germans are planning to envelop the entire Russian army in this region. The newspaper points out that the fall of Warsaw will have a grave significance for the west as it will mean that Russia's power to resume a successful offensive will have been postponed and that the principle basis for offensive operations will be in the hands of Germany.

Today's Petrograd official statement saying that the Germans have been thrown back at one point of the Narew river brings some relief to London as the military observers here hold that the final results depend largely upon Russia prolonging resistance in climatic conditions in that country interpose a barrier to the full realization of the German plan.

Mike George was the name given by a foreigner found in a drunken condition at the N. & W. depot by Officer Callahan Smith, Tuesday afternoon.

BECKER IS GIVEN 2 DAYS RESPITE

New York, July 27—Supreme Court Justice Ford awaited today the filing of briefs by counsel for Charles Becker and by representative of the district attorney in Becker's appeal for a third trial, on the ground of newly discovered evidence. Counsel was prepared to file the briefs at noon today.

In order to obtain time for the conservation of the documents, Justice Ford had requested and the warden of Sing Sing prison had granted a two day postponement of the day set for Becker's execution, Becker was to have gone to the electric chair early Wednesday morning, but the warden ordered the execution postponed until Friday. Justice Ford was impelled to ask for this delay, owing to the shortness of time in which to pass upon the application for a new trial. He said that he would endeavor to decide on the motion as soon as possible. It is stated that no witnesses for either side will be heard.

Becker at Sing Sing received notice of his two days' respite calmly.

U. S. AWAITS WORD ON SHIP'S SINKING

Washington, July 27.—Details of the sinking of the American ship Leelanaw by a German submarine were awaited today by officials of the United States government pending which they were reserved in their comments.

A full account of the destruction of the Leelanaw is not expected until the American consul at Dundee, Scotland, has completed his investigation. The inquiry was to begin there today with the arrival of the vessel's crew.

Only meagre account of the sunken steamer have been received here. The episode has been the subject of considerable informal discussion here coming soon after the delivery of the American note to Germany. The course to be pursued by the American government will not definitely be determined until all the facts in the case have been received.

It is probable, however, that the procedure will be the same as in the case of the American ship William P. Frye, when the United States disputed Germany's right to destroy American ships even if carrying contraband. Officials here are of the opinion that the Leelanaw should have been immune from attack and that Germany in reality had again violated the Prussian-American treaty of 1828.

SAYS TUG CAUSED EASTLAND TO SINK

Chicago, July 27.—William H. Hull, general manager of the company which owns the Eastland advances the theory that the vessel was overturned by the pulling of a tug that had been engaged to pilot it to open water.

"My theory is that the boat was resting on the bottom of the river," he said. "Then when the tug pulled, over she went. The river probably was not deep enough at that point for the Eastland. We have plenty of water at our own docks but perhaps the river had filled in at the place she docked Saturday.

"My information is that a rear line was fastened and that it pulled off the cap of the piling when the tug pulled. When the piling gave way the tug pulled over the boat in a hurry. If that theory is not right I have not the slightest idea of what caused the accident. The boat was safe. It was not the boat."

COMB SAGE TEA IN LIFELESS, GRAY HAIR

Look young! Common garden Sage and Sulphur darkens so naturally nobody can tell.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and abundant with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, ready to use, for about 50 cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and abundant.

To The Republicans of Portsmouth, O.

If nominated and elected Mayor of this city, I shall appoint to places in the municipal government the very best men obtainable. It requires good men to make a good administration, and I will give you both. Factional politics will not be the one yard stick by which appointments will be measured, but merit, industry, ability and competency must be possessed by each appointee, and value received must be returned to the taxpayer.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, O. Office Phone 60.

Dear Miss Wise.—I am a young girl of 18 and am in love with a boy of the same age. I am engaged to marry him the 24th of August. My mother is not willing for me to marry him. This man is very respectable and I love him dearly. He comes regularly every Sunday night. What advice do you give me?

BRIDE-TO-BE.

Why does your mother object? Don't you think that it is because she thinks you are too young to be married? Do not disobey her under any circumstances. Have a serious talk with her and find out what her objections to the young man are.

Dear Miss Dolly.—I am a girl of thirteen and I want to go on the stage, but my parents have their property all tied up, and they cannot send me to a dramatic school. Where can I go free of charge?

D. M. M.

There is no free dramatic training school. However, that is unimportant to you just now, for what you need is a thorough education in all of the elementary subjects. Thousands of girls dream of becoming great actresses. Only one in a thousand ever succeeds. The lack of an education in good English spoils macy careers at the outset.

Dear Dolly.—I am a young married woman 21 years old and my husband is 34. We have been married for nearly two years. My husband was very liberal with me at first but now he is very close. He is in business and is making good money. He will only give me six dollars a week with which to buy the groceries and clothe myself, and then scolds when I spend all of that. Do you think that he has a right to expect me to save anything and do you think I am wasteful?

TROUBLED.

With the present high cost of living in the city I think you are a very economical wife, if you make ends meet on six dollars per week. Keep an itemized account of your expenditures for your husband and I think he will be more reasonable in his demands.

Miss Dolly Wise.—Is it right for the "Three Brothers" to stand beside the "Three Graces" year after year; and which one should speak first? Centuries have not yet decided this question, can you.—From Orin, at Yosemite, Calif.

It's time for you to come home, Orin.

Dear Miss Wise—I was trained to hold the fork in the right hand when necessary, but have been told that it is proper to hold it in the left hand. Would like an opinion.

A. R.

It is perfectly proper to use the fork with the right hand, but it is the English custom to use it with the left hand almost entirely, and of late many careful persons are adopting the foreign way. There is a reason back of almost every rule of good form. The elimination of unnecessary movements is the secret of perfect table manners according to the English standard. Keeping the fork in the left hand does away with much fussy changing back and forth.

My Dear Miss Wise.—Will you give me a receipe for cauliflower pickles?

MRS. H.

Choose only such flowering heads as are fine and of full size, cut away all the leaves and pull away the flowers by bunches; soak in brine that will float an egg for two days, drain, put in bottles with whole black pepper, allspice and stick cinnamon; boil vinegar, and with it mix mustard smoothly, a little at a time and just thick enough to run into the jars, pour over the cold cauliflower and seal, while hot. An equal quantity or less of small white onions, prepared for pickling may be added before the vinegar is poured over the cauliflower. The onions should first be peeled until they are white, then scalded, and put in salt and water until tender, then take nup and put in the bottles with the cauliflower.

Dear Miss Wise.—Will you tell me some refreshing drink to serve at an early morning bridge party?

LOTTIE.

The following iced-tea receipe is delicious: To one and one-half pints of sugar add one pint of water, and cook until it threads when dropped from spoon. Have ready one pint strong tea, four teaspoons of tea required. When done pour over tea. After cooling, add one cup of orange juice and juice of one lemon. Serve very cold with candied mint leaves and slices of lemon.

Miss Wise.—Is it lawful for first cousins to marry in the state of Ohio?

WANT TO KNOW.

It is not.

Dear Miss Wise.—Is there a way to keep milk fresh for any length of time?

HILLTOP LADY.

To every quart of water add a dessert spoonful of boracic acid, and keep the miture in a bottle tightly corked. Add one or two tablespoonfuls of this to every quart of milk. This will keep milk sweet for twenty-four hours, even in the hottest weather.

BOY FINDS REVOLVER AND ONE IS SHOT

Youthful curiosity to see what was in a grip they found in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Holley Harris of 2347 Ninth street, caused their 12-year-old son Chester Harris and his playmate, Merle Dittmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dittmer, of 2336 Ninth street to flirt with death in tragic form Tuesday morning when they found a revolver in the grip.

When the Harris boy tried to lift the revolver out of the grip the trigger was in some manner snapped and the ball struck the index finger of the Dittmer boy, but only a flesh wound was inflicted. The ball, which was from a 32 revolver lodged in the wall of the room in which the boys were exploring the contents of the grip.

A few moments after Mrs. Harris had gone to Joseph Fields' grocery at Ninth street and Kendall avenue, according to the Dittmer boy they found the grip in one corner of the sitting room of the Harris home. They quickly opened it and when Harris saw a revolver in it, which belonged to his father, he lifted it out and in doing so the trigger was snapped. The boys were within three feet of each other when the pistol was snapped and they had a miraculous escape from death.

Dr. J. E. Rogers was called and dressed the Dittmer boy's injury, which is not of a serious nature.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris moved back to this city last Saturday from Wisconsin, where they had been living for some time. They formerly resided here.

Just three days ago George Ellsworth, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Dittmer, died from cholera infantum.

BISHOP PAID A FINE TRIBUTE

The Church Messenger, official paper of the Southern Ohio Diocese of the Episcopal church, in a recent issue contained an abstract of an address delivered by Bishop Vincent to Diocesan convention, in which he made reference to the late H. S. Grimes, of this city. Bishop Vincent said of Mr. Grimes:

"We note with sorrow the recent and sudden death of Mr. H. S. Grimes, a vestryman of All Saints church, Portsmouth, and occasionally a member of this body. For years Mr. Grimes had earnestly worked to sustain the failing life of Christ church, in that city, and when its organization was given up he counseled and worked and gave no less interestedly in behalf of All Saints church. He was undoubtedly one of Portsmouth's leading citizens, and his spirit, his example, and his services, make his death an irreparable loss both to the community and the church."

Mr. Anderson To Tell About Big Convention

Mr. W. B. Anderson, who but recently returned from Atlantic City, will conduct the prayer meeting at Trinity Wednesday evening and will give an account of the great national convention of the Anti-Saloon League which was held there two weeks ago. Since this convention was probably the greatest ever held by Dry workers, anywhere, and Mr. Anderson was on the ground during all of the sessions, his description and narrative of events should interest a multitude of local people. The service begins at 7:15, as usual.

MRS. STEELE ANGERED AT THEFT CHARGE

Mrs. Della Steele filed an affidavit in the mayor's court Monday against Frank Combs because he is alleged to have accused her of stealing one dollar's worth of lumber. The case was set for hearing Monday night but owing to the absence of an important witness was deferred.

Keep To The Right

In order to all the more impress automobile and other vehicle drivers of the importance of complying with the "Keep to the Right" traffic rule the city police officials are having cards printed for distribution. Patrolmen will carry these in their pockets and offenders will be stopped and handed such cards as reminders.

MORSE LLOYD GETS SCHOLARSHIP

Morse Lloyd, former Times carrier, who graduated from the Hopkins Grammar School this year, received word from Dean Woodford, of that school Monday that he had been awarded one of the two scholarships given by that school each year. Young Lloyd made excellent grades at the Hopkins school but was surprised when he received notice of the free scholarship. The scholarship means that Lloyd's tuition for one year will be paid by the school at any of the large colleges. Lloyd recently passed an examination to enter one of the big colleges but has not decided on which one he will attend.

Work Is Humming On C. & O. Work

Work on the C. & O. Northern grading from Sciotoville northward continues to progress rapidly. Contractors Langehorne, Langhorne Company and Sneed have their large steam shovels cutting away large masses of solid rock on the Balmer and Powers hills every hour of the day. The dinky trains are hurrying the work of filling the deep ravines between the hills and across the lowland from Powers hill to the Little Scioto river bank. Three eight hour shifts of men with mules and small dump wagons are making a cut through the small hill north of Balmer hill. The men are making the cut to make way for the steam shovels. Blasting is going on every hour of the twenty-four.

The C Yancey Ligon Construction Company have completed the concrete arch over Ketter's road at Kotter's Crossing, where the Ligon and Langehorne camps are located. The arch is a fine piece of masonry. The Ligon Company has put its large force of men to work on the piers for the bridge that is to span the Little Scioto river. The northern end of the bridge will rest on Merwine hill. The form for the abutment on this side of the river is complete. There will be a number of small concrete forms for steel supports and several large piers. The bridge over the Little Scioto will be the largest along the line from Sciotoville to Waverly.

All the other contractors are working three shifts to rush the work. Each contractor has one or more steam shovels and dinky trains at work. The building of the roadway consists of overcoming fills and a large number of sight-seers enjoy the hike along the route of work every Sunday.

CORRECTION IN AD

"Kimona Plisse Crepe, regular 25c values, for, per yard, 28c."

That is the exact wording of an item that appeared in the Anderson Bros. Co.'s display advertisement in Monday's Times. Of course, the good women who read the item readily saw that a mistake had been made, for during the Anderson July Clearance sale now in progress the price on practically everything in their big store has been greatly reduced. Instead of selling the 25 cent grade of Kimona Plisse Crepe for 28 cents per yard, the price has been reduced to 18 cents—a wonderful bargain indeed.

Floodwall Plans

City Engineer George S. Wilhelm is preparing plans for a flood wall driveway at the foot of Chillicothe street. There will be passage way to the north of the Mill street arm for pedestrians only.

Bad Roads Spoiled Automobile Trip

Compelled to abandon their proposed trip to Lexington on account of bad roads after reaching Maysville, Messrs. George and Will Zottman arrived home from that city Monday night.

They found the roads down the river in such wretched condition that they practically ruined two tires. On their return from Maysville they hit the wrong road this side of Manchester and climbed one of the steepest hills in Southern Ohio only to drive right back down it upon being informed that they were not going the right direction to reach Wamsleyville and Otway.

Messrs. Zottman had planned to go to Lexington to bring Catcher Mills home. The latter, it will be recalled, had a leg broken during a game played in Lexington last May. Mills will probably reach the city some time Wednesday.

Now Are the Days Children Need Care

Summer Heat Dangerous to Little Ones if Bowels Are Neglected

A mother cannot do better for her child than to train it from early infancy to regular habits, not only as a preventive against much of the illness to which children are more or less subject, but also to insure their health in later life.

Normal activity of the bowels is the basis of sound health. This is especially true with children in hot weather. Do not neglect any tendency they may show to constipation, but promptly administer a gentle laxative, that will carry off the congested waste without shocking the system.

An excellent remedy for this purpose is the combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and sold in drug stores for only fifty cents a bottle. It does not contain opiates, narcotics, or harmful habit-forming drugs of any description, acts easily and naturally without griping or other discomfort and is positive in its effect.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin has been the standard remedy in countless homes for a quarter of a century and thousands of mothers testify to its virtues. If you have never used it, get a bottle from your druggist or write for a free trial bottle to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 453 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

Merchants' Donations Make Outing For Poor A Certainty

Everything is in readiness for the free outing that is to be held by the Salvation Army, Wednesday, July 28, at Millbrook park, from 9 o'clock to six-thirty o'clock. Two cars have been chartered to carry the 200 children and mothers to beautiful Millbrook. The cars will leave government square at 9 o'clock, sharp.

The business men came to the aid of the Salvation Army splendidly and have donated a number of fine prizes. Captain Robinson said Tuesday that the success of the outing is due to the way the merchants responded.

There will be contests, races, games, one, two and three prizes being given in every event. There will be 35 prizes, distributed among the lucky winners. The lunches are prepared by the Army and distributed to every one who attends the outing. The box lunch will consist of three ham sandwiches, two bananas, one piece of cake and pie. In the afternoon between the hours of three and five, water melon, ice cream and cake will be served to all free.

Harry Porter, well known local comedian, has offered his services and he is scheduled to entertain the "outers" with his funny sayings and jokes in the afternoon.

Captain Robinson is very thankful and grateful to the business men for their kind and generous donations.

Aged Woman Carried From Home That Was Destroyed By Fire

Ironton was again visited by a fire early Tuesday morning, which destroyed the home of Mrs. Chattie Marcum, of Fifth and Neal avenue. Mrs. Marcum was rescued from the burning home by neighbors. Relative to this morning's blaze, the Ironton Irontonian said:

"Dramatic in the extreme were the scenes enacted at the home of Mrs. Chattie Marcum, who resides at Fifth and Neal avenue, at about one o'clock this morning, when fire practically destroyed the house. But for the heroic efforts of George Beatty and Frank Hafley, neighbors, Mrs. Marcum, who is an aged lady, would probably have been burned to death. At the risk of their own lives, the two men dashed into the house through the flames and carried Mrs. Marcum to a place of safety. All escaped with but slight burns, but Mrs. Marcum was so wrought up over the fire that it is feared her mind will become unbalanced. Her screams, after she was rescued from the flames, attracted a crowd of several hundred South-siders to the scene.

"When the fire was discovered it was so well under way that it was impossible to save any of the building, despite the efforts of the fire department."

WILL ARRANGE OUTLET FOR RIVER VALLEY TRADE

The mayor is in receipt of official communications from Mayor Martin Behrman, of New Orleans, regarding plans to equip that city to handle the commerce of the Mississippi Valley with the outside world. A 10 ft. barge canal will be cut through the lower end of the city, locked into the Mississippi and into an arm of the Gulf with a ship-depth basin and graving dock probably at the Mississippi extremity, affording along a distance of a number of miles, slips and inlets to privately owned property, where it is proposed to locate stores and warehouses, factories, lumber and brick and stone yards. The canal will afford direct water connection with every town in the Mississippi river system. Each establishment on the canal will be served over privately owned, constant level water frontage, with the public belt railroad located in the rear and with switches to the sides of the barge and boat landings, or into the warehouses themselves.

Ironton Trimmed In Seventh Inning, Teams Play Today

Ironton, Ohio, July 27.

THE worm turned Monday and Portsmouth turned from defeat to victory, the third game of the present series going to the Spencerites 4 to 3. Portsmouth made all four of its runs in the seventh inning when a fine rally was pulled off.

Up to this time Ironton was leading 2 to 0 and it looked like the third straight defeat for Portsmouth. But when a club starts hitting there is no telling how many runs can be driven across the plate.

Sharman opened this inning by singling to left, Calbert being lucky to hold the hit to a single. Johnson then weighed in with a double to right and Sharman was soon across the plate. Caton was passed and he and Johnson moved up a peg when Lavender uncorked a wild pitch. They soon scored when McHenry lined a single into left. Spencer followed with a safe blow that permitted McHenry to score with what proved to be the winning run. Bush sacrificed and Ferguson walked, but Dilhoefer flied to left and Spencer was caught at the plate trying to score.

The Nailers got their old jump in the first when Brown walked, went to second on Ollom's sacrifice and came home when Johnson tried to kill him off stealing third, on Calbert's third strike, after Taylor had been hit by one of Ferguson's fast ones. Gilmore ended the frame by flying to McHenry said the Irontonian this morning.

In the third the fleet footed Brown scored another run. Again he was presented with a ticket to first, stole second and came all the way home on Ollom's out, Bush to Spencer, in one of the prettiest dashes ever witnessed on the local field. The nifty little player was given a mighty hand by the few loyal fans who were present.

The third run was secured in the eighth, after the Portsmouthites had taken the lead. Brown followed Lavender, who had flied out to Sharman, and singled to center. He went to second on Ollom's out, Bush to Spencer and scored on Taylor's bingle over second. Calbert was the third out, Bush to Spencer.

Gilmore led off with a clean swat in the ninth and Nailer hopes rose to a high pitch but Perry fanned. Stadfelt flied to Sharman and McDaniels looked at a third one and the old game was all the way over.

The Cobs will use their best pitcher, Hubert Test, this afternoon in an effort to get an even break on this series and he will be opposd by Meyers, who seems to have the goat of the Portsmouth sluggers. A lovely game is anticipated for this, the closing game of the series and a crowd that will exceed that of Sunday is expected.

SPORT SALAD

Brooklyn has won 22 out of its last 28 games.

Muggsy McGraw, says as soon as Matty begins winning regularly the Giants will go to the front.

Have you noticed how many games Ferguson has been winning lately?

Boston fans are betting 3 to 2 that the Red Sox will finish ahead of the White Sox.

Portsmouth will open a four game series in Lexington tomorrow.

Charleston is only one game ahead of Portsmouth and Frankfort is tied with Portsmouth.

If Charleston cops the second half, oh you big crowds for the play-off series.

DON'T MEAN INDIANS

Indianapolis, Ind., July 7.—"The statement of President Gilmore of the Federal League that players of the American Association are not paid promptly, does not apply to the Indianapolis club" said Pete Sewart, secretary of the local club, when informed of President Gilmore's assertion.

AINT IT SO?

If the Feds take Eddie Collins and Grover Alexander, Rowland and Moran might just as well throw in the rest of their outfits for good measure. They can't win without their ball clubs.

McDermott Team Wins

The McDermott team defeated the Duck Run team in a hotly contested game of baseball at McDermott Sunday by a score of 12 to 9.

Great Fight For Pennant In The National

New York, July 27.—Both the major league races continue too develop new points of interest but the struggle in the National League is claiming the maximum of attention.

Seldom has the fight for the pennant been so close at this stage of the game in any organization as in the Tener circuit this year. The Boston Braves, just two rounds above the bottom of the ladder, for example, are right now only 83 points behind the Philadelphias in first place. In the intermediate positions, Brooklyn, Chicago, Pittsburgh and New York, are on fairly even terms.

The Phillies played their usual steady game and maintained their advantage. The Brooklyns also gave no signs of wavering and pulled up into second place by capturing five out of seven games.

Pittsburgh and New York are running neck and neck with the Pirates by no means having the poorer prospects of the two. Fred Clark seems optimistic over the Pirates' chances for his infield, still steadied as it is by the veteran Wagner, is improving in efficiency right along. He has a wonder in Mamaux and such veterans on the staff as Adams, Harmon and McQuillan are valuable assets.

St. Louis dropped rapidly during the week, losing five out of seven games and Cincinnati continues in the rut, seemingly unable to do better than win one game in a series.

The American League battle still lies between the only three clubs in the circuit that have shown real class this season—Boston, Chicago and Detroit. The White Sox have not been doing well of late. The loss of the lead the club held so long was regretable from a Chicago standpoint but the ardent supporters of the team are convinced that the slump was such that any team, however capable, may experience at some stage of the race and that the recession is only temporary.

Frankfort Wins Another

Frankfort, July 27.—The Locals took another game from Maysville Monday by beating Singleton, while Kuykendall pitched a steady game and kept the six hits scattered.

The score:

Maysville .....0 0 0 0 0 2 1 0 0—3 6 2
Frankfort .....0 0 0 0 0 2 3 0 x—5 7 0

Batteries: Singleton and Deberry; Kuykendall and Mueller.

Good Excuse To Beat It

The slump of the Cardinals recently has caused the announcer at the St. Louis park to quit his job and join the English army. He left with a load of mules for Liverpool last week.

CLAIM LEYME WAS TRADED FOR BAT

The Lexington Herald of Monday said: The story of how Biddy Beers acquired "Hooker" Leyme from the Chillicothe, now the Maysville team, leaked out yesterday. Leyme was traded to the Senators for a bat by Manager Josh Devore, so the story goes, and has been a consistent winner ever since. The bat which figured in the trade was immediately broken by Harry Devore, it is said, in batting practice, and was rescued by the Charleston boys and traded then for a new bat. All of which leaves the Beers with a debit to their account of one young left-handed pitcher, slightly eccentric, but with more stuff than Rube Marquard ever had, but lacking the ability to use it where he wants to.

BOWLING SEASON OPENS AT THE CRYSTAL PALACE

In the brilliantly lighted "Crystal Palace" the pride amusement center of the East End, the bowling season was fittingly opened last night when Byron Prediger's Primroses defeated James Wanless' Wonders two out of three. Incidentally the Primroses captured the match by the margin of 98 pins.

The players, let it be said right here, perspired like so many Paddies on a right of way. Incidentally it was the first time since last winter that several of the players had seen a mineralite. The scores, however, were of fair proportions, and the enthusiasm was at high tide.

The players were most agreeably surprised at the completeness of "Crystal Palace." The five new alleys in the rear, shining like so many satin ribbons, made the boys eager to try their skill at the game of ten pins. Off went their shirts and the perspiring athletes stood forth in their B. V. D.'s.

Two of the toiling athletes, namely Elmer Heisel and George Wilhelm, bowled as though they were in perfect trim. They were uncanny in their marksmanship, and their scores would look good at a National Tournament. Jim Distel and Byron Prediger also knocked 'em down with frequent regularity, while Chris Malavazos came through with good scores.

The alleys are in splendid trim, and there is no doubt but they will be well patronized. Incidentally many new bowlers will be developed as a result and bowling should flourish in the city during the fall and winter. The scores:

Players Get Pay

(Lexington Herald)

President Joe Carr, of the Ohio State League, who resides at Columbus, was in Lexington last night on his way back from Frankfort, where he witnessed the Maysville-Frankfort game yesterday. Incidentally he paid the Maysville players their salaries during the time they were working for the league without a home to call their own until the kindly Maysville people took them in.

ONE THROW TO PLATE RETIRES 2 RUNNERS

Two base runners were retired by one throw to the plate in a recent game played between the Witchita (Kan.) and Lincoln (Neb.) clubs—probably the only time such a play ever was made. Lincoln had runners on second and third. Lincoln batter then sent a short fly to right field. The right fielder got the ball on the first bound and sent it zipping toward the plate.

It so happened that the runner on second was much speedier than the runner on third. He was close on the heels of the third base runner when the latter started for the plate. The throw beat the first man by about two feet and all the catcher had to do was reach out and tag him. In the meantime, the fellow who had been on second came along so fast that he didn't have time to pull up when he saw the runner ahead of him tagged out. So he took a chance and slid for the plate. The catcher tagged him and he also was out—making two putouts on one assist.

ARE STILL RIDING EVERS

They are still riding Johnny Evers for his ball field assertion that umpires are trying to perpetuate a close race in the National League, but what's the use? Evers is a great little man in baseball and a grand little fellow personally, and all his life he has been saying a lot of little things he didn't really mean. Fact of the matter is that Johnny's old vitriol is now so water-like in its effect that he just has to think up something real rough like his crack the other day to get under the skin of his hearers. Evers knows that he never meant what he said and more than that he knows it isn't true. Publicity never should have been given the incident.

COLOR LINE BARS GREAT PITCHER

The color line in baseball is barring one of the greatest pitchers living, according to reports from Kansas City. John Donaldson, a nergo, pitching for a semi-pro team there, recently hurled thirty innings without allowing a hit.

Loyal Soldiers Are Leading

A rather one-sided game and an easy victory was won by the Loyal Soldiers class of the U. B. Sunday school with the Friendly Fellows coming out on the short end of a 19 ot 10 run battle.

In the absence of his regular Pitcher Hopper, Manager Bowser went to the mound for the victors and performed creditably.

Larcamy, who pitched for the losers, twirled a steady game until the ninth inning when with rotten support, he was touched up for twelve hits, netting a total of 15 runs.

There were many spectacular plays in which Mader, Menke, Wheeler and Swably featured. These teams have played six games this season with the following result:

Loyal Soldiers, 4 won, 2 lost; Friendly Fellows, 2 won, 4 lost.

Robertson Coming Star

In Robertson, Manager McGraw believes that he is about to realize the one great ambition of his baseball career. He has always wanted to have a player make good for him, and Davie looks like one of the most sensational players in the country just now.

May Boss The Naps

George McBride of the Washington Senators is the latest candidate for the job as manager of the Cleveland team. Perhaps McBride does not know that his name has been entered in the contest, but it is.

Billy Southworth May Do Bench Duty

The Cleveland Plain Dealer of Monday said:

When Joe Jackson gets back in the game, which probably will be Wednesday, it will not be Jimmy Eschen who will go to the bench. Bill Southworth is the gardener who will become an extra man, as Eschen has displayed his value in the six games he has played. He has made seven hits in twenty-one times at bat for an average of .333, scored ten runs, drawn five passes and made two sacrifice hits.

In the field he has accepted nineteen of his twenty chances, exhibiting rare judgment in playing the different batters. He has also shown wisdom as well as great speed on the bases. On the whole, he looks like a most promising acquisition.

ARE RAPPING BRESNAHAN

Eastern critics are beginning to take some hard raps at Roger Bresnahan as a manager and they are saying that his work as leader is the cause of the Cub downfall. One thing is certain, the Cubs are playing about as poor baseball right now as any team in the country and they are showing no signs of getting out of the rut. All the disaster cannot be laid at the door of Vic Saier, who was injured, as the slump started a good while before Saier was hurt. The eastern writers assert that Roger is not handling his pitchers with anything like big league fashion.

GOOD WAY TO KILL GAME

Up in Milwaukee the players of the American Association team are being charged with laying down. Last year and the year previous they won the pennant, now they are next door to the cellar and showing no signs of improving their standing. In Saturday's game they are charged with not trying to stop balls that were hit right at them, and it is hinted that they are practically on a strike, owing to the cutting of their salaries, something that was done a few months ago by the owners of all the Association clubs.

Splendid Program At East End Meeting

Monday evening was set apart for a big time in Scout circles, and those about Scout Headquarters are feeling fine today and congratulatin gthemselves because of the smoothness with which the program was rendered.

A fine crowd was out and the program was thoroughly enjoyed. The First Class Fraternity was out in masse and it was certainly inspiring to see so many bright faced boys in one group.

Miss Alma Davis was present and rendered two beautiful vocal solos which was highly appreciated. The feature of the evening was the presenting to Scout Lowell Tatman the Life, Star and Eagle badges.

To be presented with the above badges means a great deal of hard work on the part of the Scout receiving same. To win a Life badge means that you must successfully pass an examination in five special studies. To win a Star badge means that you must pass an examination in ten special studies. And to wear an Eagle badge which is the highest honor that can be conferred on a Scout means that you must pass an examination in eleven special and ten regular studies.

Scout Tatman, to whom the Life, Star and Eagle badges were presented last evening has passed in thirty-five studies and won as many merit badges which means that he has been a busy boy.

Less than a year ago Mr. Tatman entered the Scout movement and within six months had been made a first class Scout. Having no desire to stop here he kept busy with his studies and by giving up many of those things in which most boys delight has forged to the front and copped the most coveted prize within the gift of the Scout Movement.

Mr. Ridenour presented the badges and Scout Davis of troop 8, Arthur Doll of the Red Eagle Patrol, and Secretary Wagner of the First Class Fraternity all offered congratulatory remarks which was responded to by Mr. Tatman in a neat little speech just to the point.

Boy Grapples With Negro And Prevents A Robbery

The pluck and bravery of Walter Jones, aged 14 years, foiled a robbery at the home of his brother, Benjamin Jones, a Selby Shoe Company office employee, of No. 1616 Grant street, a few evenings ago.

The boy was home alone and stepped out into the kitchen after a drink of water, only to be grabbed by a tall negro. A desperate struggle ensued, the boy holding up his end of the battle so well that the negro finally tore himmself from the youth's grasp and bolted from the house. An inventory showed that there was nothing missing. The robber had entered the house through the kitchen door, which was unlocked.

The police were notified and made a thorough search of the neighborhood, young Jones furnishing them with a fairly good description of the negro, but they were unable to find any trace of him.

IRONTON MAN ACCUSED OF A HEINOUS CRIME

Ironton, O., July 27—One of the worst cases of depravity has come to light in this city, that has come to the notice of public officials in many days.

Paul Sidman, of West Ironton, was locked up Monday afternoon in the county jail, charged with rape upon the person of Lilly Fillgrove, the fifteen-year-old daughter of Charles Fillgrove, of West Ironton.

Sidman voluntarily comes forward and makes a confession of his acts in the face of a penitentiary sentence before him, the police say. The girl for a long time stoutly maintained that she was entirely innocent, saying that Sidman was lying. But after she was locked up in the county jail, she confessed to Mr. Sloan.

From her story before she admitted her wrong-doing, it appears that Sidman's wife died about two years ago and that during most of that time she had been doing his work, and that he only furnished her her clothes.

Sidman states that he has been intimate with the girl for nearly two years, it is claimed.

Stability League Petitions Have 118,000 Signatures

According to word received from Columbus Tuesday, 118,000 signatures have already been secured by the Constitutional Stability League of which H. A. McKenzie is secretary. Only 113,000 signatures were needed, but Mr. McKenzie says that by the end of the week the petitions sent to all parts of the state would contain probably 140,000. It was stated that 1,500 signatures were secured in Scioto county.

The amendment the league is working for provides that when a proposed amendment is twice rejected it cannot be brought up again within six years.

He took one dose of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and was swiftly restored—with one dose. Seven months later he sent an order for more, saying:

"Since taking your remedy I have not been bothered any to speak of with my stomach. Before I had bad headaches and dizzy, weak spells, of which I am almost free. I have gained fifteen pounds since taking the one dose. It is not that I need the medicine now that I am sending. I am simply going to take it as a preventive. My wife induced a lady friend to try it. She had been eating only a raw egg or cracker or two, and often could not keep them down. This lady used your remedy and it has almost cured her."

He said he was visiting his uncle, Henry Castle, but did not know his street address and could not give the slightest clue to the locality. Mrs. Harry notified the police and an officer was detailed to help the lad find his relatives.

It was learned later that the boy's relatives lived on Gallia street, near Mabert Road, and he was safely returned to their home.

After paying a short visit to relatives and friends in Lucasville and Portsmouth, Branch Rickey, manager of the St. Louis Browns left Monday afternoon for Philadelphia, where his team will open a four game series with the fading Athletics.

While in the city Monday the leader of the Browns made inquiries about Ralph Sharman and Shortstop Caton of the local team. He had heard so much about their good work this season that he consulted several well known fans about both of these lads. Mr. Rickey, who is considered one of the best managers in the big league, today picked up the find of the season when he signed Sisler of the University of Michigan. Connie Mack recently stated that Sisler was one of the most promising youngsters he had ever seen.

Mr. Rickey left Mrs. Rickey and two children in Lucasville to pay an extended visit to her parents, Hon. and Mrs. Chan Moulton.

Freak Play Beat Cleveland Spiders

Columbus defeated the Cleve land A. A. team Monday at Cleveland, but it required a freak play on the part of Billy Nixon, a former local player for the Senators to defeat the Spiders. Columbus scored two of its three runs in the second inning when Nixon accidentally kicked Coleman's pop single beneath a concrete step in front of the pavilion, two runs being scored before the ball could be recovered. And Nick Carter pitched for the Spiders. It was certainly a tough one for the Spiders to lose.

RECALLS HOW BIG SHIP SAILED OUT INTO LAKE ERIE WITH A BIG PASSENGER LIST AND THEN DISAPPEARED FROM SIGHT

A Chicago paper published a list of marine accidents that have occurred on the lakes, comparing them with the Eastland horror, but strangely enough never mentioned the case of the "Lady Elgin," that happened some time in the early eighties, on which occasion more lives were lost than in any other accident on the great lakes up to the time of the capsizing of the Eastland. The Lady Elgin was an excursion steamer and started across the lake to Grand Haven with a thousand people on board. After passing out of sight of land the boat disappeared, either by sinking or burning, but from that day to this no knowledge has ever come to light as to the nature of the horror. At one time a fragment of a steamer's cabin furniture bearing the letters "L. E." in monogram form, was cast upon the Michigan shore, the same undoubtedly being part of ill-starred steamer. Many of Chicago's best families were represented on the boat, and there was mourning in the city and the whole country was shocked. Some one wrote and composed a pathetic song appropriate to the event some time afterward called "Lost On the Lady Elgin," and it had its run, in parlor and concert hall, as such songs always do.

Strange to relate, the dock from which the Lady Elgin started was the same to which the Eastland was moored when she capsized, namely, just at the Clark street bridge. The illustrated papers of the day carried a picture of the Clark street bridge, crowded with people watching the crowd go aboard the Lady Elgin, on her last and fatal trip. M. K.

TAKE SALTS FOR THE KIDNEYS IF YOUR BACK HURTS

We Should Drink Lots of Water and Eat Less Meat, Says Noted Authority on Kidney Disorders

Recommends a Spoonful of Jad Salts In Glass of Water Before Breakfast to Stimulate Kidneys and Eliminate the Uric Acid

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked, get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy, the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush off the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

AUTO PARTY HELD UP BY A DRUNKEN NEGRO

The following item from the Gallipolis Tribune is of interest to many Portsmouth people as Mr. and Mrs. Kerr and Dr. and Mrs. Parker have frequently visited here:

"Returning to Gallipolis in an automobile Saturday night between ten and eleven o'clock, Dr. and Mrs. Claude Parker and Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Kerr were held up by a colored man named Monroe Johnson, a few rods beyond the former location of the old covered bridge this side of Mills Station.

"The fellow zigzagged across the road as the car approached, just like a submarine, and Dr. Parker stopped to avoid running over him. Thereupon the offender went to the side of the car on which Mr. Kerr was sitting, and launched a tirade of profanity and obscenity toward the occupants, which he punctuated with a gun. It was an extremely trying situation for the helpless and unarmed men penned up in the car, and the ladies were simply stunned with fright. The man with the gun was keyed up on bad whiskey, and a group of six or eight other colored men, all stimulated, gathered about the car. Some of them had a little sense left, and after Johnson had partially exhausted his vile vocabulary, pulled him away and the car was allowed to proceed, while the colored men wended their noisy and uncertain way toward a Buck Ridge "festival."

"After a while Dr. Parker turned the car back to Mills Station and sent in a call for police, and on their arrival the ladies were sent home in another car and the police went on and arrested Johnson, who was taken to jail. Mr. Kerr was left with the car, and when Constable Bill Smith, also colored, came along, a flashlight was turned on him, whereupon he also pulled a gun. Mr. Kerr spoke to him and was recognized, Constable Bill confessing to a slight excess of stimulation himself, remarking that all officials had to take a little occasionally.

"When Gallipolis heard about the affair Sunday morning great indignation was expressed, along with a desire that Dr. Parker press his charge to the limit. The ladies had a sick and nervous night after the outrage.

"'Mon' Johnson is said to be a bad character, with a disposition that is not improved by whiskey, and the crowd of colored men who come to town from the Buck Ridge neighborhood to load up on booze Saturday night are not especially beneficial to any community. The experience of Dr. Parker and Mr. Kerr is likely to result in automobile parties going better prepared to resist hold-ups in the future.

Bound Over To Court

"Johnson was bound over to court in the sum of $400 this afternoon by Squire Watts on charges of carrying concealed weapons and pointing firearms. He went back to jail."

Plan Betterment Of Fire Department

John Linck, director of public safety; Charles W. Wilson, chairman of the city council fire committee; and Fire Chief W. A. McOuat made an inspection of the city's various engine houses Tuesday morning.

The officials found the engine houses in fairly good shape but decided that some repairs were necessary at the East End house. They also decided to buy several new horses to replace a disabled one of the ladder truck team and another at the Hilltop house and also to relieve "Billy" the chief's driving horse. The horse, they feel, has merited retirement for it has been in constant service for twelve years and is now 17 years old. "Billy" will be transferred to the public service department and be used as a driving horse by John Lynn, superintendent of the city water works department.

May Bring Suit To Re-Instate Nurses

Attorneys for the dismissed Hempstead hospital nurses have not yet consulted the young women as to how they feel about Safety Director Linck's advice to file their applications. The lawyers take the stand that by so doing the nurses would destroy all rights they might have and say they will probably bring suit in mandamus to have the nurses reinstated.

GEEKS COMPLETE PLANS FOR "SHOEING" THE POOR, WILL HOLD A BIG FAIR

At an enthusiastic meeting of the Geeks held Monday night their plans to "shoe" the poor and needy of the city outlined at a recent meeting were again taken up and practically completed, as arrangements were made to raise a fund of $1000 for this worthy purpose.

When "Shoe Day" is observed in the early fall by the Geeks every needy child in the city will be given a substantial pair of shoes it was announced last night.

An indoor fair is to be held some time the latter part of September and the entire proceeds will be devoted to the purchase of clothing for the needy and coal for the poor. Only Ohio mined coal will be purchased and home manufactured goods bought as much as possible, it was agreed upon by members of the Geeks. Members Joseph Scholl, Albert Maier, Dr. C. H. Dawson, Dr. Gill and others have started the fund with substantial donations. Citizens of the city will likely be called on to assist the Geeks in ascertaining the worthy ones who will appreciate the donations of clothing and fuel.

Messrs. Si Straus, William Barron and Charles Wilson were appointed as a committee Monday night to make detailed arrangements for the indoor fair which will be held on an elaborate scale with many innovations.

Many members of the Geeks assembled Monday night in the Don't Worry Club headquarters and enjoyed a social session. Harry Porter and Sam Williams were the entertainers of the evening. Several candidates were obligated and the Geeks soon found that the order is outgrowing its present quarters. More commodious rooms in a centrally located part of the city will be likely secured.

The Geeks adopted resolutions declaring in favor of members buying and using only Ohio mined coal this winter in order to aid the cause of the suffering miners.

The Geeks are continually adding talent for a minstrel show to be given this winter, chief among whom is Sam Williams, a popular local monologue artist, who joined the organization Monday night. Other new members admitted were: A. L. White, manager of the Style Shop; William Thomas, a well known mill roller, and Harry Porter, the Hempstead hospital janitor.

Music will make a new man of you!

Think of being able to sit right down and play anything your fancy suggests from the latest ragtime, the hit of the moment, bits from the comic opera you enjoyed so much, or the dear old-live-forever melodies your mother sang, to the world's greatest musical classics! All of these shall be at your very finger tips, even though you don't know one note from another, if you possess a Pianola!

The Pianola Is for You!

The Pianola is not an ordinary "player-piano" that makes music a matter of mechanics. It is far different and better.

Scores of player-pianos are on the market, and some of them have a certain degree of merit—but there is only ONE Pianola. It is made by the Aeolian Company, owners of the fundamental patents for the improvements that make real music possible through a player-action.

The Pianola gives you the fingering ability, and through the wonderful Metrostyle and Themodist enables you to put expression—your own feeling—into the music you play. Without this, there can be no lasting enjoyment.

That piano standing in your living-room—it's a handsome piece of furniture, no doubt, but how much real enjoyment has it brought to YOU? Why don't you exchange it for a Pianola that you can play?

Do this and you shall have music of your own making tomorrow evening.

After you have exhausted the music with which you are familiar, the Pianola will lead you on and on and teach you how to get the most out of the great mass of worth-while compositions which are now a sealed book to you—hundreds, and even thousands of delightful pieces written by the masters of melody for your entertainment.

PAPER HAS INTERESTING STORY ABOUT MR. ROSS

"The Church Messenger, official paper of the Episcopal diocese of Southern Ohio, in an account of a recent diocesan convention, had this to say of Portsmouth's oldest resident, Mr. Samuel R. Ross:

A Remarkable Life

"Mr. Samuel R. Ross, of All Saints' Parish, Portsmouth, was the oldest delegate in attendance at the convention, having passed his 96th birthday. Coming to Portsmouth in 1844, he has been a delegate to most of the annual conventions, and was in attendance at Gambier when the Southern Ohio Diocese was formed. His home has been the happiest when visited by the clergy, and he has had the honor of entertaining during the last sixty-eight years the following named Bishops of the church, viz., Chas. P. McIlvane, Gregory T. Beddell, Thos. A. Jaggar, Boyd Vincent, Frederick K. Brooke, Theodore Irving Reese, and also the presiding Bishop, Daniel S. Tuttle, who was a scholar with him in Oxford Academy, N. Y.

"All Saints Parish was organized in 1819, and will hold a centennial in 1919, and Mr. Ross hopes to be spared to celebrate his century of life on that occasion.

"The editor of The Messenger was Mr. Ross's rector for a number of years and we feel honored in inserting the above "Convention Note." In this connection the following excerpt from the New York correspondent to the Cincinnati Times-Star, who met Mr. Ross, will be of interest:

"Mr. Samuel R. Ross, of Portsmouth, O., suddenly recollected last week that he hadn't had a real good look at New York in some years. So he briskly boarded a C. & O. train and arrived, hale, hearty and happy in the metropolis of the state in which he was born in the year 1819. Mr. Ross admitted that there was a very material difference in the appearance of New York today and as he observed the town when he passed through it to take up his residence in Portsmouth, where he has now lived a little matter of 70 years. Mr. Ross was born in Oxford, N. Y., a little over 96 years ago. He is visiting his son, Mr. George K. Ross, who is president of the Manhattan Paper Manufacturing Company, with offices in the Produce Exchange Building, and who resides at 788 Riverside drive. Mr. Ross, Sr., has been a daily reader of the Times Star, 'since,' as he says, 'the days when Ben Eggleston was the boss of the paper, some 60 years ago.'"

REDFIELD ARRIVES TO PROBE SINKING OF STEAMER EASTLAND

Chicago, July 27—With the arrival here today of Secretary of Commerce Redfield steps were taken to determine what form the investigation into the cause of the capsizing of the steamship Eastland at her dock last Saturday, shall take.

Secretary Redfield, following President Wilson's request for a thorough investigation, is prepared to go into the case independently of the Federal Steamboat Inspection Service but will not announce his conclusions until he has had time to make a personal examination of conditions.

With the entry of the cabinet member into the case no less than eight separate investigations are in progress or contemplated with the situation complicated by a clash between State's Attorney Hoyne and Federal authorities over the possession of evidence gathered by the Chicago police and which the latter on demand turned over to the government agents for presentation to the Federal grand jury.

The county started its hearing at the criminal court building and the coroner's jury began the taking of testimony at the court building. United States District Attorney Clyne began the calling of witnesses for the Federal grand jury. The harbor and wharves committee of the city council began its investigation and the state public utilities commission is considering the question of starting an inquiry. Governor Dunne has been urged to call a special session of the legislature and the sanitary district board will meet Thursday to appoint an investigating board.

Bids for the raising of the Eastland will be received today and until this work is completed it is probable that the number of lives lost in the disaster cannot be definitely computed. A number of bodies are known to be in the hull of the vessel but divers have been unable to reach them. Coroner Hoffman declared that he has no way of computing the number of unrecovered dead. Late estimates place the total dead at between 1,000 and 1,200. State's Attorney Hoyne declared that Captain Pederson of the Eastland told him that Federal sanction for increasing the boat's carrying capacity without change in construction was "arranged" and that he (Pederson) was told to go to Grand Haven, Michigan, and get the certificate.

Completion of a relief fund of $300,000 for the aid of the families of the victims is expected to be attained before the close of the day.

SAYS TUG CAUSED EASTLAND TO SINK

Chicago, July 27.—William H. Hull, general manager of the company which owns the Eastland advances the theory that the vessel was overturned by the pulling of a tug that had been engaged to pilot it to open water.

"My theory is that the boat was resting on the bottom of the river," he said. "Then when the tug pulled, over she went. The river probably was not deep enough at that point for the Eastland. We have plenty of water at our own docks but perhaps the river had filled in at the place she docked Saturday.

"My information is that a rear line was fastened and that it pulled off the cap of the piling when the tug pulled. When the piling gave way the tug pulled over the boat in a hurry. If that theory is not right I have not the slightest idea of what caused the accident. The boat was safe. It was not the boat."

BECKER IS GIVEN 2 DAYS RESPITE

New York, July 27—Supreme Court Justice Ford awaited today the filing of briefs by counsel for Charles Becker and by representative of the district attorney in Becker's appeal for a third trial, on the ground of newly discovered evidence. Counsel was prepared to file the briefs at noon today.

In order to obtain time for the conservation of the documents, Justice Ford had requested and the warden of Sing Sing prison had granted a two day postponement of the day set for Becker's execution. Becker was to have gone to the electric chair early Wednesday morning, but the warden ordered the execution postponed until Friday. Justice Ford was impelled to ask for this delay, owing to the shortness of time in which to pass upon the application for a new trial. He said that he would endeavor to decide on the motion as soon as possible. It is stated that no witnesses for either side will be heard.

Becker at Sing Sing received notice of his two days' respite calmly.

ITALIAN GENERAL KILLED

Udine, Italy, July 26 (via Paris, July 27)—General Antone Cantore has been killed in battle on the Isonzo front. He is the first officer of that rank lost by Italy. He won a general's commission by the heroism he displayed during operations in Tripoli.

General Cantore had charge of actions which resulted in the occupation of Ala and other villages near Rovereto in Trentino. Armed only with a riding whip he directed his men from the most exposed positions, declaring he would be ashamed to run less risk than his men.

WANT CENSUS OF CRIPPLED CHILDREN

Columbus, July 27—An attempt to secure a census of crippled children in Ohio will be made soon by the state board of administration with the help of the board of state charities, according to an nouncement made today. This move was planned in anticipation of the erection by the state of a home for deformed children, in accordance with the act passed by the last legislature.

Governor Willis said today he would call a meeting soon of the special state commission which has charge of making plans for such a state home.

CITIES ARE GIVEN ADDITIONAL FREEDOM

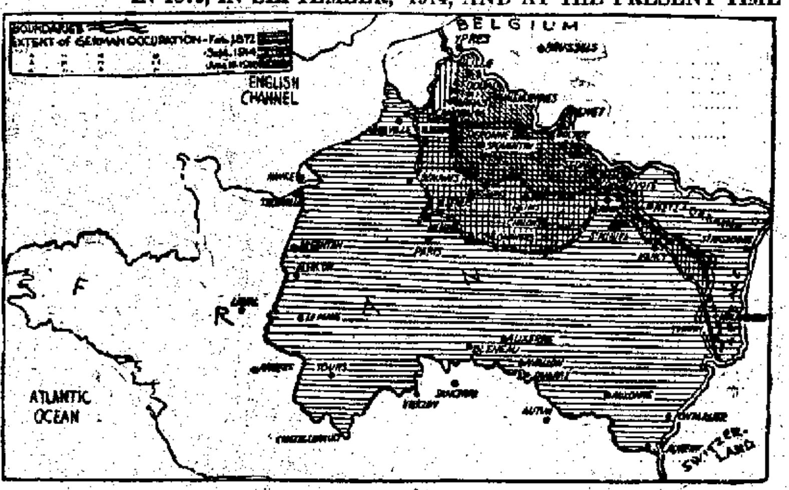
Columbus, July 27—Additional freedom in election questions is given cities which have adopted home rule charters, in an opinion given by Attorney General Turner to Secretary of State Hildebrant. It holds that in Toledo where the question arose specifically, ward assessors may be nominated instead of at primaries since the charter provides no municipal primaries. The opinion likewise holds good for other charter cities where municipal primaries are not provided in August.

75 PER CENT OF VICTIMS INSURED

Chicago, July 27—Insurance managers estimate that between 50 and 75 per cent of the Eastland victims carried policies, the average amount being $300. They say $500,000 will be paid to families of the victims during the week, several of the skilled workers of the Western Electric Company carried policies of $5,000.

Several Chicago representatives of the insurance companies have omitted the customary red tape and started to pay the claims. In many cases these payments have prevented applications to relief instructions. Insurance men have not waited for claims to be presented, but sent their forces of collectors to find the beneficiaries.

PROPORTIONS OF FRENCH TERRITORY OCCUPIED BY GERMANS IN 1870, IN SEPTEMBER, 1914, AND AT THE PRESENT TIME



On this map is shown the territory occupied during the invasion of 1870 by the Prussians. Compared to this large area, which covers all the northeast of France, the territory still held by the Germans at the present time after their retreat of September, 1914, on the Marne, seems rather small. It should be remembered that both wars began in August, but that of 1870 officially ended May 21, 1871. The same date this year has found Germany in a position quite different. This map has been redrawn from the atlas of "The Franco-German War of 1870," established by the historical section of the Prussian general staff.

1,500 OIL STRIKERS WILL GO TO WORK

New York, July 27—Fifteen hundred strikers had promised to return to work today in the plants of the Standard Oil and Tidewater Oil Company in Bayonne, N. Y., where scenes of turmoil have accompanied the strike.

The sheriff's efforts to increase his forces of uniformed men guarding the oil works, in order to protect returning workmen, involved him in a clash with the Jersey city police authorities early today. The sheriff called upon Frank Monahan, the Jersey City chief of police, to send a detail of police to Bayonne, but Chief Monahan refused, saying that he needed his men to protect an oil plant from strikers in Jersey City.

In announcing that he intended to arrest the chief of police, Kinkead hurried to Jersey City, but could not find Monahan. He summoned a deputy police commissioner and two Jersey policemen to do strike duty in Bayonne, but they all declined to serve.

London, July 27.—The casualties in the British army and navy have reached a total of 330,995, according to a printed statement issued by Premier Asquith.

The total naval casualties up to July 20 were 9,106 and the military casualties to July 18 were 321,889. The naval losses were divided as follows: Officers killed 449; wounded 87; missing 29; men killed 7,430; wounded 787; missing 274.

Norwegian Schooner Burned By Germans

Amsterdam, July 27—(Via London)—The Norwegian schooner Harboe was attacked and set on fire Sunday by a German submarine. The crew, which has landed here, was given five minutes to get into the boats. The captain says he saw three other boats on fire near the spot where the Harboe was attacked.

The Harboe was a three masted bark built in 1878 at Port Elgin, N. B. She was owned by H. J. Stangebye, of Christiana.

HOUSE IS EMPTY SINCE BOAT WRECK

Chicago, July 27—A house at 2301 South Kolin avenue has not been entered since the Eastland capsized. Two families, consisting of seven persons lived in the house and all are either dead or missing. A wagon drove to the residence with two bodies but no one was there to receive them.

GERMANS ARE DRIVEN BACK

Petrograd, July 27, (Via London)—German attacks southeast of Pultusk have been repulsed, but they are battering at the advanced defenses of Novogeorgievsk, according to an official statement issued tonight at the headquarters of the general staff. Assaults against the advanced fortifications of Ivangorod also have been successfully repulsed, the Russians claim, while a terrific battle still is in progress on almost the entire front between Vieprz and the Bug rivers.

President Guillaum is in the palace resisting the attack of the rebels. The building itself is in flames.

U. S. AWAITS WORD ON SHIP'S SINKING

Washington, July 27.—Details of the sinking of the American ship Leelanaw by a German submarine were awaited today by officials of the United States government pending which they were reserved in their comments.

A full account of the destruction of the Leelanaw is not expected until the American consul at Dundee, Scotland, has completed his investigation. The inquiry was to begin there today with the arrival of the vessel's crew.

Only meagre account of the sunken steamer have been received here. The episode has been the subject of considerable informal discussion here coming soon after the delivery of the American note to Germany. The course to be pursued by the American government will not definitely be determined until all the facts in the case have been received.

It is probable, however, that the procedure will be the same as in the case of the American ship William P. Frye, when the United States disputed Germany's right to destroy American ships even if carrying contraband. Officials here are of the opinion that the Leelanaw should have been immune from attack and that Germany in reality had again violated the Prussian-American treaty of 1828.

Will Ask Carranza To Meet Leaders

Washington, July 27—Official announcement that the United States government shortly would make a definite move to solve the Mexican problem led to some speculation here today as to just what course would be pursued. The announcement did not reveal the nature of the action planned.

President Wilson has been giving close study to the Mexican situation, particularly since the heads of the warring factions have failed to heed his warning to settle their differences and bring peace to the troubled republic. The president, it is said, is carefully weighing several plans but an announcement of his decision will not likely be made until after his return from Cornish, N. H.

The most probable step, it was said, will be to make a final plea to General Carranza to confer with other factions in an effort to restore peace. Failing in this conferences of other Mexican chiefs would be urged. A government formed by them might be recognized by the United States and aid given to maintain it.

TWO BOXERS DIE ON THE EASTLAND

Chicago, July 27—The body of Eddie Bartlett, well known as a fighter in the bare-knuckle days and no less renowned as a runner, jumper and wrestler, has been identified among the victims of the Eastland. He was employed on the boat and his body was laid beside that of Joe Bertrand, former bantam boxer who also perished in the disaster. Bartlett prepared Harry Gilmore for his bare-knuckle fight with Jack McAuliffe at Lawrence, Mass., in 1887. His last ring appearance was with Tommy Ryan at Whiting, Indiana, in the early 90's.

Ironton Trimmed In Seventh Inning, Teams Play Today

Ironton, Ohio, July 27.

THE worm turned Monday and Portsmouth turned from defeat to victory, the third game of the present series going to the Spencerites 4 to 3. Portsmouth made all four of its runs in the seventh inning when a fine rally was pulled off.

Up to this time Ironton was leading 2 to 0 and it looked like the third straight defeat for Portsmouth. But when a club starts hitting there is no telling how many runs can be driven across the plate.

Sharman opened this inning by singling to left, Calbert being lucky to hold the hit to a single. Johnson then weighed in with a double to right and Sharman was soon across the plate. Caton was passed and he and Johnson moved up a peg when Lavender uncorked a wild pitch. They soon scored when McHenry lined a single into left. Spencer followed with a safe blow that permitted McHenry to score with what proved to be the winning run. Bush sacrificed and Ferguson walked, but Dilhoefer flied to left and Spencer was caught at the plate trying to score.

The Nailers got their old jump in the first when Brown walked, went to second on Ollom's sacrifice and came home when Johnson tried to kill him off stealing third, on Calbert's third strike, after Taylor had been hit by one of Ferguson's fast ones. Gilmore ended the frame by flying to McHenry said the Irontonian this morning.

In the third the fleet-footed Brown scored another run. Again he was presented with a ticket to first, stole second and came all the way home on Ollom's out, Bush to Spencer, in one of the prettiest dashes ever witnessed on the local field. The nifty little player was given a mighty hand by the few loyal fans who were present.

The third run was secured in the eighth, after the Portsmouthites had taken the lead. Brown followed Lavender, who had flied out to Sharman, and singled to center. He went to second on Ollom's out, Bush to Spencer and scored on Taylor's single over second. Calbert was the third out, Bush to Spencer.

Gilmore led off with a clean swat in the ninth and Nailer hopes rose to a high pitch but Perry fanned, Stadfelt flied to Sharman and McDaniels looked at a third one and the old game was all the way over.

The Cobs will use their best pitcher, Hubert Test, this afternoon in an effort to get an even break on this series and he will be opposed by Meyers, who seems to have the goat of the Portsmouth sluggers. A lovely game is anticipated for this, the closing game of the series and a crowd that will exceed that of Sunday is expected.

The McDermott team defeated the Duck Run team in a hotly contested game of baseball at McDermott Sunday by a score of 12 to 9.

Great Fight For Pennant In The National

New York, July 27.—Both the major league races continue too develop new points of interest but the struggle in the National League is claiming the maximum of attention.

Seldom has the fight for the pennant been so close at this stage of the game in any organization as in the Tener circuit this year. The Boston Braves, just two rounds above the bottom of the ladder, for example, are right now only 83 points behind the Philadelphias in first place. In the intermediate positions, Brooklyn, Chicago, Pittsburgh and New York, are on fairly even terms.

The Phillies played their usual steady game and maintained their advantage. The Brooklyns also gave no signs of wavering and pulled up into second place by capturing five out of seven games.

Pittsburgh and New York are running neck and neck with the Pirates by no means having the poorer prospects of the two. Fred Clark seems optimistic over the Pirates' chances for his infield, still steadied as it is by the veteran Wagner, is improving in efficiency right along. He has a wonder in Mamaux and such veterans on the staff as Adams, Harmon and McQuillan are valuable assets.

St. Louis dropped rapidly during the week, losing five out of seven games and Cincinnati continues in the rut, seemingly unable to do better than win one game in a series.

The American League battle still lies between the only three clubs in the circuit that have shown real class this season—Boston, Chicago and Detroit. The White Sox have not been doing well of late. The loss of the lead the club held so long was regretable from a Chicago standpoint but the ardent supporters of the team are convinced that the slump was such that any team, however capable, may experience at some stage of the race and that the recession is only temporary.

Frankfort Wins Another

Frankfort, July 27.—The locals took another game from Maysville Monday by beating Singleton, while Kuykendall pitched a steady game and kept the six hits scattered.

The score:

Maysville .....0 0 0 0 0 2 1 0 0—3 6 2
Frankfort .....0 0 0 0 0 2 3 0 x—5 7 0

Batteries: Singleton and Deberry; Kuykendall and Mueller.

Good Excuse To Beat It

The slump of the Cardinals recently has caused the announcer at the St. Louis park to quit his job and join the English army. He left with a load of mules for Liverpool last week.

CLAIM LEYME WAS TRADED FOR BAT

The Lexington Herald of Monday said: The story of how Biddy Beers acquired "Hooker" Leyme from the Chillicothe, now the Maysville team, leaked out yesterday. Leyme was traded to the Senators for a bat by Manager Josh Devore, so the story goes, and has been a consistent winner ever since. The bat which figured in the trade was immediately broken by Harry Devore, it is said, in batting practice, and was rescued by the Charleston boys and traded then for a new bat. All of which leaves the Beers with a debit to their account of one young left-handed pitcher, slightly eccentric, but with more stuff than Rube Marquard ever had, but lacking the ability to use it where he wants to.

BOWLING SEASON OPENS AT THE CRYSTAL PALACE

In the brilliantly lighted "Crystal Palace" the pride amusement center of the East End, the bowling season was fittingly opened last night when Byron Prediger's Primroses, defeated James Wanless' Wonders two out of three. Incidentally the Primroses captured the match by the margin of 93 pins.

The players, let it be said right here, perspired like so many Paddies on a right of way. Incidentally it was the first time since last winter that several of the players had seen a mineralite. The scores, however, were of fair proportions, and the enthusiasm was at high tide.

The players were most agreeably surprised at the completeness of "Crystal Palace." The five new alleys in the rear, shining like so many satin ribbons, made the boys eager to try their skill at the game of ten pins. Off went their shirts and the perspiring athletes stood forth in their B. V. D.'s.

Two of the toiling athletes, namely Elmer Heisel and George Wilhelm, bowled as though they were in perfect trim. They were uncanny in their markmanship, and their scores would look good at a National Tournament. Jim Distel and Byron Prediger also knocked 'em down with frequent regularity, while Chris Malavazos came through with good scores.

The alleys are in splendid trim, and there is no doubt but they will be well patronized. Incidentally many new bowlers will be developed as a result and bowling should flourish in the city during the fall and winter. The scores:

Players Get Pay

(Lexington Herald)

President Joe Carr, of the Ohio State League, who resides at Columbus, was in Lexington last night on his way back from Frankfort, where he witnessed the Maysville-Frankfort game yesterday. Incidentally he paid the Maysville players their salaries during the time they were working for the league without a home to call their own until the kindly Maysville people took them in.

ONE THROW TO PLATE RETIRES 2 RUNNERS

Two base runners were retired by one throw to the plate in a recent game played between the Witchita (Kan.) and Lincoln (Neb.) clubs—probably the only time such a play ever was made. Lincoln had runners on second and third. Lincoln batter then sent a short fly to right field. The right fielder got the ball on the first bound and sent it zipping toward the plate.

It so happened that the runner on second was much speedier than the runner on third. He was close on the heels of the third base runner when the latter started for the plate. The throw beat the first man by about two feet and all the catcher had to do was reach out and tag him. In the meantime, the fellow who had been on second came along so fast that he didn't have time to pull up when he saw the runner ahead of him tagged out. So he took a chance and slid for the plate. The catcher tagged him and he also was out—making two putouts on one assist.

ARE STILL RIDING EVERS

They are still riding Johnny Evers for his ball field assertion that umpires are trying to perpetuate a close race in the National League, but what's the use? Evers is a great little man in baseball and a grand little fellow personally, and all his life he has been saying a lot of little things he didn't really mean. Fact of the matter is that Johnny's old vitriol is now so water-like in its effect that he just has to think up something real rough like his crack the other day to get under the skin of his hearers. Evers knows that he never meant what he said and more than that he knows it isn't true. Publicity never should have been given the incident.

COLOR LINE BARS GREAT PITCHER

The color line in baseball is barring one of the greatest pitchers living, according to reports from Kansas City. John Donaldson, a nergo, pitching for a semi-pro team there, recently hurled thirty innings without allowing a hit.

Loyal Soldiers Are Leading

A rather one-sided game and an easy victory was won by the Loyal Soldiers class of the U. B. Sunday school with the Friendly Fellows coming out on the short end of a 19 ot 10 run battle.

In the absence of his regular Pitcher Hopper, Manager Bowser went to the mound for the victors and performed creditably.

Larcamy, who pitched for the losers, twirled a steady game until the ninth inning when with rotten support, he was touched on for twelve hits, netting a total of 16 runs.

There were many spectacular plays in which Mader, Menke, Wheeler and Swably featured. These teams have played six games this season with the following result:

Loyal Soldiers, 4 won, 2 lost; Friendly Fellows, 2 won, 4 lost.

Robertson Coming Star

In Robertson, Manager McGraw believes that he is about to realize the one great ambition of his baseball career. He has always wanted to have a player make good for him, and Davie looks like one of the most sensational players in the country just now.

May Boss The Naps

George McBride of the Washington Senators is the latest candidate for the job as manager of the Cleveland team. Perhaps McBride does not know that his name has been entered in the contest, but it is.

Billy Southworth May Do Bench Duty

The Cleveland Plain Dealer of Monday said:

When Joe Jackson gets back in the game, which probably will be Wednesday, it will not be Jimmy Eschen who will go to the bench. Bill Southworth is the gardener who will become an extra man, as Eschen has displayed his value in the six games he has played. He has made seven hits in twenty-one times at bat for an average of .333, scored ten runs, drawn five passes and made two sacrifice hits.

In the field he has accepted nineteen of his twenty chances, exhibiting rare judgment in playing the different batters. He has also shown wisdom as well as great speed on the bases. On the whole, he looks like a most promising acquisition.

ARE RAPPING BRESNAHAN

Eastern critics are beginning to take some hard raps at Roger Bresnahan as a manager and they are saying that his work as leader is the cause of the Cub downfall. One thing is certain, the Cubs are playing about as poor baseball right now as any team in the country and they are showing no signs of getting out of the rut. All the disaster cannot be laid at the door of Vic Saier, who was injured, as the slump started a good while before Saier was hurt. The eastern writers assert that Roger is not handling his pitchers with anything like big league fashion.

GOOD WAY TO KILL GAME

Up in Milwaukee the players of the American Association team are being charged with laying down. Last year and the year previous they won the pennant, now they are next door to the cellar and showing no signs of improving their standing. In Saturday's game they are charged with not trying to stop balls that were hit right at them, and it is hinted that they are practically on a strike, owing to the cutting of their salaries, something that was done a few months ago by the owners of all the Association clubs.

Can't Go Ahead

Portsmouth is bound to come out of Ironton with a percentage of 500. By winning Monday's game the Nailers cannot forge ahead of the Spencerites in the present brace of games. As in past seasons Portsmouth has had no trouble in winning this year from the Ironton aggregation.

HAS NOTHING ON US.

The Sun thinks Springfield is going to enter upon an era of unparalled prosperity and growth because she is the only Ohio city that has not been ravaged by a flood. A pleasant vista of the future, indeed, but not as substantial as the Sun opines. A flood doesn't hurt so much as reckoned and it has its compensations. Since the overwhelming inundation of two years ago, Portsmouth has been the healthiest in its hundred years of existence and epidemics of diseases have been unknown. In fact there have been months when there was not a case of contagious disease reported, a condition most unusual, if at all, experienced before the flood.

And though most completely overwhelmed by the waters, with the wheels of every industry at poise, business suspended and her thousands roosting upstairs, Portsmouth was not overwhelmed in either spirit or prospect. Her growth has continued steady and even quite rapid, splendid improvements have been completed or put under way, and in every essential she is bigger, better and more buoyant than ever before.

Yes, floods may come and they may go, as they have a habit of doing, but a good town, rightly located on water goes on forever. It is the law of concentration that a metropolis must be located on water of consequence. Look at New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, St. Louis, New Orleans, the Twin Cities, St. Paul, and Minneapolis. What is true of the metropolis is equally true of the smaller city. So Springfield, having no stream much more important than Funk's gut, hasn't any advantage over the rest of us occasionally wet towns by that fact, to the contrary she is by that same token at a distinct disadvantage.

THE RIGHT METHOD.

The shocking toll demanded by our two rivers, eight persons having lost their lives therein so far this year, makes imperative that persons making recovery within a short time of those apparently drowned, should know the best method of resuscitation. This is not, as so commonly believed, rolling over a log, or beating the body with the flat hand. To the contrary physicians claim more deaths than recoveries are caused by these. So it is advised that as soon as the body is brought out of the water it be laid flat on the stomach with the arms extended forward. Then let someone get astride the form and place his hands just below the ribs move them up towards the shoulders, keeping the process up steadily for as long at least as an hour if there is no return to breathing and consciousness in the meantime.

THE WAVERLY FAIR.

Waverly is going to have a great fair August 4. 5 and 6. Already there have been so many entries that the capacity of the buildings will be taxed to take care of them, but the management say that they will meet any emergencies and care for all who may come. We hope that a good many Portsmouth people will take in the fair. It is only a short distance away and it will do you good to rub elbows with our neighbors up the valley. Go up and see what they can raise and what they can make and above all meet with as clever a set of men and women as you will find anywhere on earth.

Well, did you ever. Here comes one of these pestiferous government expert fellows and warns us the old arm chair is a menace to health and what not! Breeds heart disease, kidney trouble and fatty degeneration of the heart. But bad as all this is, it is by no means all. For the government feller forgets to tell us in it is rocked the kid, who later along poses as an expert at an annual stipend.

We eat too much. Familiar headline these days to ponderous fulminations on summer diet. What's the difference, so long as the grocery bills are paid. It all washes out in the law of general average. For if some eat too much, there are others that eat too little because they can't get enough.

Young Doc Sellards, the original Willis man, can find consolation in the fact that while he did not get a job at Columbus, at least he was privileged to welcome a fine little daughter on the very same day that his erstwhile friend and co-laborer in the cause, Hon. George Ditty, was connected with a Two Thousand Dollar salary from the state treasury.

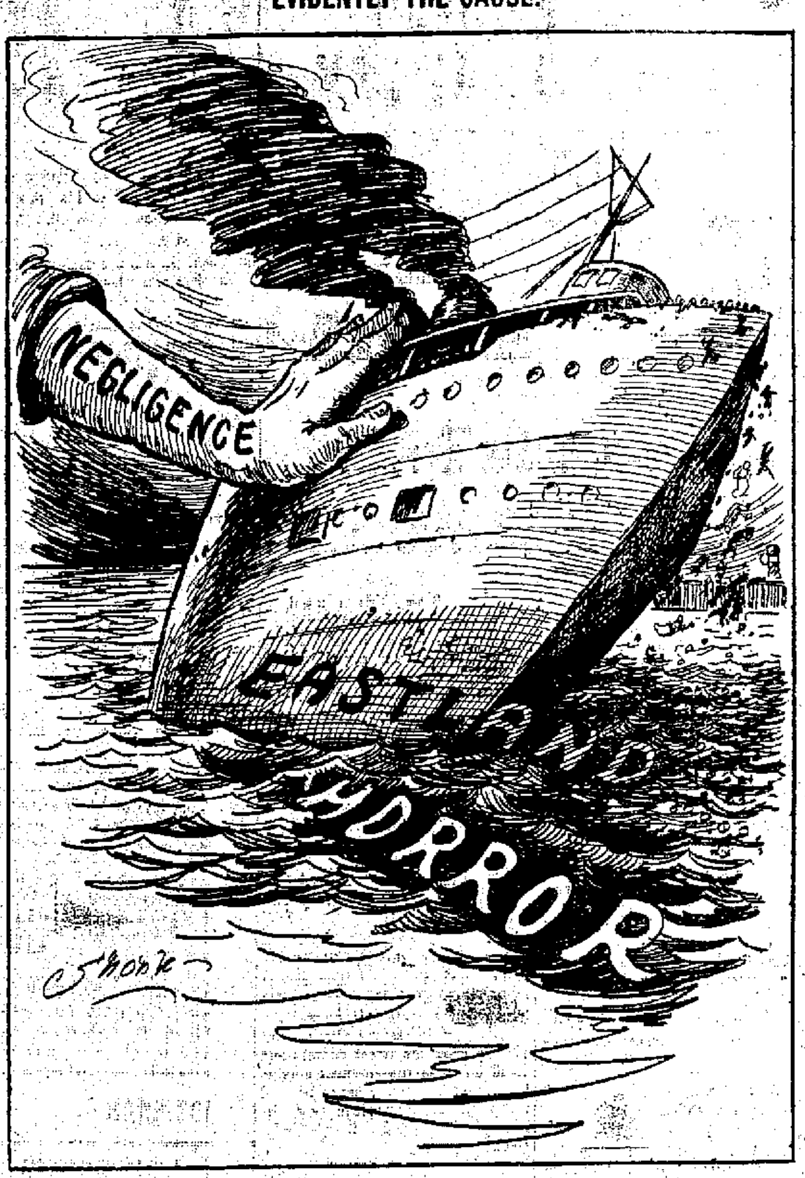
That straw vote seemed to indicate that McCormick was far and away in the lead for the Republican nomination for mayor, but take our tip for what it is worth and keep an eye on Kaps when the real votes are counted out. His crowd are noted for being great finishers and will bear watching.

Illinois offers three presidential candidates to the G. O. P. She is modest, but not so much so, as Ohio, which has one real candidate, one receptive and another that is trying to make believe he is. Neither of the first two is our good young Governor.

The best advice we have seen this torrid weather is that offered by the Star of Portsmouth, Va., which adjures the press to give Bryan a rest.

We have our doubts about the sanity of Harry Thaw since he now says he has become immune against the charm of woman.

EVIDENTLY THE CAUSE.



A THREEFOLD PURPOSE.

A Brown county farmer told the Georgetown Democrat, one day last week, that he had just harvested, from the pike along his place, hauled and stored in his barn two as fine big loads of blue grass as were ever cut.

We do not feel we are taking any risk in making the guess, that this same farmer is one of the most prosperous in a county noted for its successful husbandmen. For the harvesting from the particular place shows his thrift and prudence in three ways. That the crop was of unusual quality shows he kept the ground clear of weeds and thus saved the seeds spreading over his lands and doing damage to other crops, or entailing extra labor in keeping out the consequent tares. He made a handsome profit out of what would otherwise have been and is altogether usually waste ground, and last but not least, he has made his place most attractive of all his neighbors and increased its value by appearances.

There is much lamentation these days that the tillable lands are exhausted and we are nearing a condition where we will not be able to produce enough to feed the nation. Little instances like this show how fallacious is such an alarm. There are veritably millions of acres, just like the patch out of which the Brown county man made a good profit lying idle and unused, enough, of a truth, if we farmed intensely like the Europeans do, to support the entire present population of the United States.

Just an idea. It is estimated by one of these eternal figurers that it costs 61 cents to stop and start a train, so why wouldn't it be a good thing for autoists to raise a fund and have all trains stop on "yander" side of all crossings.

John Wanamaker wants one hundred men to put a million a piece into buying Belgium. Count us out. We wouldn't think it worth one hundred cents without a quit claim title from Der Kaiser.

Sunday evening, in a ride out the paved portion of the Scioto Trail and back 128 automobile were counted. And it wasn't a particularly good evening for automobiles either.

The motorists are learning caution. The telegraph carried news of only one fatal accident for Sunday.

Uncle Sam will eliminate the bicycle and motorcycle from his mail service on the first of January next. Thereafter only Shanks' mare, the horse and the automobile will go in the city and rural delivery service.

A woman in New York swung a dizzy gait for a month as the putative widow of Henry M. Flagler, of Florida, the man, who all by himself built a railroad costing 'way up into the millions. Of course, she was from Ohio, and a couple of years ago she was a cook in one of "the best old families" at Painesville.

WHAT WE ARE WORTH.

Those fellows over at Washington, who make a specialty of delving into and divulging data, occasionally emit something in the way of figures, that instead of being dry as dust, is teeming with interest and vitality. For example the bulletin just issued under the title of "Estimated Valuation of National Wealth," tells us each living soul in the country, men, women, boys and girls and even the its, small babies, is worth $1,965.

That makes us the richest per capita of any on earth, with France, England and Belgium ranking just below, in the order named. Contrary to general impression Germany was fifth, but rapidly advancing at a ratio nearly as great as our own, prior to the outbreak of war. And which state in all the forty-eight do you think is the wealthiest? None other than little sand blistered, flea-bitten Nevada, and Mississippi, with the most fertile lands of them all, but with no big cities, where wealth does most congregate, the poorest of them all. But now blush to hear it. Our own beautiful, boastful Ohio, stands over half way down towards the foot of the class. In other words she is twenty-six.

Now, understand you, we are all worth $1,965 a piece, that is taking the aggregate wealth of the nation and dividing it by the total of population, gives every one that much, is the per capita wealth as the figurers put it. But being worth $1,965 and having what you are worth as a citizen, a part of the community as a whole, and having the same as an individual, are two entirely different propositions. If you don't believe that, just run your hand down in your jeans, or hand-bag and see if you can dig up anything like $1,965.

The towpath will be finished by the first of November, if not later.

Sketches of Little OLD NEW YORK by O. O. McIntyre

New York, July 27.—Since Old Doc Flint spilled a few beans about insanity and its various ramifications many are wondering who is looney now. In fact life's little lunatics seem to be disturbing everybody.

Organists, so experts declare, become insane more frequently than trombonists, bootblacks, hod-carriers, street sweepers and writers. If this is true—and it probably isn't—one wag wonders if the mental derangement is not caused by calculating the time between the conductor's beat and the emission of sound from the organ.

J. A. Waldon, of Puck, has a craving for two ice cream sodas or so during the hot weather and he is wondering what favorite form of insanity he has. A gentleman from New Jersey walked into a police station in New York the other morning and said he was beginning to feel a little milky in the filbert.

"What trend does your paranoia take?" said the desk officer, showing that he was up on the snappy and zippy stuff.

"Well," said the Jerseyite, "I get up every morning feeling that I will surely get a seat on the subway train when I come to New York."

He was locked up without further parley.

Raymond Hitchcock follows Billie Burke with a snap of his fingers for the legitimate stage. The long haired comedian has signed up with a film company and declares that he doubts very much if he will ever return to the legitimate stage.

He declared that he liked studio work much better and that as long as there was big money in it—he should worry. No word has come yet from George M. Cohan who has been friveling away four or five hours a day writing a play for Hitchcock.

Nellie Revelle, most famous of women press agents, has resigned as editor of the vaudeville section of the Morning Telegraph, to return to publicity disseminating with the Orpheum Circuit.

Miss Revelle was the right hand ma — a—a——pardon — woman when Percy Williams owned the theatres now owned by the Keith people. Anna Marble, who in private life is Mrs. Channing Pollock, was also considered one of Broadway's best press agents and was the originator of the sensational style of advertising which made the Hippodrome famous.

Mrs. Pollock decided one day that Channing was making too much money writing plays so she resigned to help him spend it. Since that time she has received huge offers to return to press work.

Toto, innocent child of the jungle until the gay night life of Broadway led him astray, has been found, wiser but repentant and Lady Grace Mackenzie, African explorer and big game huntress, has forgiven him. Toto went for a ride in the park with Fred Eeles, until lately Lady Mackenzie's secretary.

A few hours later Eeles telephoned that Toto had been drinking rum along the Great White Way and smashing hats. Later Toto and Eeles became separated and Eeles was arrested for listing too far to the starboard.

The monkey was later found swinging from electric light pole to electric light pole in front of a garish uptown theatre, while the belated pedestrians looked on. When a policeman lassoed Toto he seemed to say: "Officer this is the life."

"French Airmen Over Essen"—Evening Sun headline. Gluttons!

One of the big down-town hotels lost a wash room attendant the other day. He did not show up for work and the house detective made some inquiries regarding him. It developed that he had bought a hotel of his own in New Jersey paying $10,000 therefor. It represented money he had saved from tips.

DOC KOKO'S COLUMN

All the Discomforts of Home

McArlem had a cozy flat, but after July Four
He always moved his family to the country or the shore.
Yet though they breathed the country air, or whiffed the ocean breeze,
The Misses and the seven kids were always ill at ease.
They moped about their cottages, they lolled around hotels,
They got the melancholy look of men in Sing Sing cells.
But soon McArlem figured out the reason for the gloom
That hung upon them like a pall:
They all had too much room!

They missed the crowded kitchenette, they missed the two-foot hall;
They missed the continuity of ceiling and of wall,
They could not eat a meal in peace; if they moved back a chair
And tilted it to gain more ease, the wainscot wasn't there.
The kids were always getting lost somewhere around the place,
And all the outfit was oppressed by overwhelming space.
Throughout the dreary summertime they sat around and sighed
For all the inconveniences they'd had on Morningside.

And then an architect appeared, who took a curious pride,
In reproducing Harlem flats around the countryside.
He got in seven rooms and bath, of chicken coop design,
And all upon a building plot of seventeen by nine.
McArlem bought his family one; and in it they have spent
The last few summers by the sea in gratified content.
It has all of the discomforts the McArlems yearned for so.
You'll find it down at Skeeter Beach. It's called a Bungalow!

—James J. Montague.

Disappointed

A Woman's Way

"Well," replied the landlady calmly, "I shouldn't be surprised."

Thou Art a Jewel

A lady dances in a ball room,
She shows her shoulders and arms.
Only a bit of ribbon lies
Between the public and her charms.
A scandal if she showed her ankles;
A riot if she showed her knees.
But at the seaside in the summer
Why, you can see them all you please.
But why? What difference can it make?
I cannot see, although I try,
Whether one's frock is cut high below
Or cut below up high.

—Hi B. Smith.

BOY FINDS REVOLVER AND ONE IS SHOT

Youthful curiosity to see what was in a grip they found in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Holley Harris of 2347 Ninth street, caused their 12-year-old son Chester Harris and his playmate, Merle Dittmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dittmer, of 2336 Ninth street to flirt with death in tragic form Tuesday morning when they found a revolver in the grip.

When the Harris boy tried to lift the revolver out of the grip the trigger was in some manner snapped and the ball struck the index finger of the Dittmer boy, but only a flesh wound was inflicted. The ball, which was from a 32 revolver lodged in the wall of the room in which the boys were exploring the contents of the grip.

A few moments after Mrs. Harris had gone to Joseph Fields' grocery at Ninth street and Kendall avenue, according to the Dittmer boy they found the grip in one corner of the sitting room of the Harris home. They quickly opened it and when Harris saw a revolver in it, which belonged to his father, he lifted it out and in doing so the trigger was snapped. The boys were within three feet of each other when the pistol was snapped and they had a miraculous escape from death.

Dr. J. E. Rogers was called and dressed the Dittmer boy's injury, which is not of a serious nature.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris moved back to this city last Saturday from Wisconsin, where they had been living for some time. They formerly resided here.

Just three days ago George Ellsworth, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Dittmer, died from cholera infantum.

The Movies

Marguerite Clark in "The Pretty Sister of Jose" Columbia Today

In the title role of "The Pretty Sister of Jose," Frances Hodgson Burnett's charming romance of old Spain, and Maude Adams' former starring vehicle, the dainty star, Marguerite Clark, attains one of her greatest screen triumphs. The role is one in which every resource and power of the magnetic little star is brought into effective play, and she takes the fullest advantage of her many emotional opportunities. As the tiny, exquisite Spanish girl of a thousand moods and whims, who has vowed never to lose her heart, but who, when finally conquered by the handsome Sebastino, loves truly and devotedly, Miss Clark is utterly incomparable, and denotes exceedingly well the struggle in the girl's heart to maintain a haughty demeanor toward the man she has learned to adore, while longing to yield to the impulses of her love. With her fascinating dark beauty and charming grace of form and motion, Miss Clark is exceptionally adapted to the role of the dainty little dark-eyed belle of Madrid. The scenic environments of California, where the subject was produced, lends itself faithfully to the atmosphere of the story, and its rapidly changing development, with its wealth of color and romance, has resulted in a thoroughly unusual and picturesque photo-play.

On account of the warm weather, Manager Tynes announces ALL SEATS AT 10 CENTS for today. The first matinee will begin promptly at 1:30 and the first evening show at 6:30, then at 8:30 and 9:30.

"The Heart of a Painted Woman," a five part motion picture production, adapted from the original story of the same name, has been put into motion pictures by the Popular Plays and Players company, and comes to the Columbia tomorrow and Wednesday.

Mme. Olga Petrova, one of the stage's most brilliant and versatile stars, will be seen in the principal role, supported by an admirable cast of well-known players.

This is Mme. Petrova's second appearance under the banner of the Popular Plays and Players company, the first appearance having been made in "The Tigress." "The Heart of a Painted Woman" is on the Metro program and is considered one of the real gems in the field of motion pictures. Don't forget this great picture tomorrow.

Boy Grapples With Negro And Prevents A Robbery

The pluck and bravery of Walter Jones, aged 14 years, foiled a robbery at the home of his brother, Benjamin Jones, a Selby Shoe Company office employee, of No. 1616 Grant street, a few evenings ago.

The boy was home alone and stepped out into the kitchen after a drink of water, only to be grabbed by a tall negro. A desperate struggle ensued, the boy holding up his end of the battle so well that the negro finally tore himself from the youth's grasp and bolted from the house. An inventory showed that there was nothing missing. The robber had entered the house through the kitchen door, which was unlocked.

The police were notified and made a thorough search of the neighborhood, young Jones furnishing them with a fairly good description of the negro, but they were unable to find any trace of him.

IRONTON MAN ACCUSED OF A HEINOUS CRIME

Ironton, O., July 27—One of the worst cases of depravity has come to light in this city, that has come to the notice of public officials in many days.

Paul Sidman, of West Ironton, was locked up Monday afternoon in the county jail, charged with rape upon the person of Lilly Fillgrove, the fifteen-year-old daughter of Charles Fillgrove, of West Ironton.

Sidman voluntarily comes forward and makes a confession of his acts in the face of a penitentiary sentence before him, the police say. The girl for a long time stoutly maintained that she was entirely innocent, saying that Sidman was lying. But after she was locked up in the county jail, she confessed to Mr. Sloan.

From her story before she admitted her wrong-doing, it appears that Sidman's wife died about two years ago and that during most of that time she had been doing his work, and that he only furnished her her clothes.

Sidman states that he has been intimate with the girl for nearly two years, it is claimed.

Merchants' Donations Make Outing For Poor A Certainty

Everything is in readiness for the free outing that is to be held by the Salvation Army, Wednesday, July 28, at Millbrook park, from 9 o'clock to six-thirty o'clock. Two cars have been chartered to carry the 200 children and mothers to beautiful Millbrook. The cars will leave government square at 9 o'clock, sharp.

The business men came to the aid of the Salvation Army splendidly and have donated a number of fine prizes. Captain Robinson said Tuesday that the success of the outing is due to the way the merchants responded.

There will be contests, races, games, one, two and three prizes being given in every event. There will be 35 prizes, distributed among the lucky winners. The lunches are prepared by the Army and distributed to every one who attends the outing. The box lunch will consist of three ham sandwiches, two bananas, one piece of cake and pie. In the afternoon between the hours of three and five, water melon, ice cream and cake will be served to all free.

Harry Porter, well known local comedian, has offered his services and he is scheduled to entertain the "outers" with his funny sayings and jokes in the afternoon.

Captain Robinson is very thankful and grateful to the business men for their kind and generous donations.

Aged Woman Carried From Home That Was Destroyed By Fire

Ironton was again visited by a fire early Tuesday morning, which destroyed the home of Mrs. Chattie Marcum, of Fifth and Neal avenue. Mrs. Marcum was rescued from the burning home by neighbors. Relative to this morning's blaze, the Ironton Irontonian said:

"Dramatic in the extreme were the scenes enacted at the home of Mrs. Chattie Marcum, who resides at Fifth and Neal avenue, at about one o'clock this morning, when fire practically destroyed the house. But for the heroic efforts of George Beatty and Frank Hafley, neighbors, Mrs. Marcum, who is an aged lady, would probably have been burned to death. At the risk of their own lives, the two men dashed into the house through the flames and carried Mrs. Marcum to a place of safety. All escaped with but slight burns, but Mrs. Marcum was so wrought up over the fire that it is feared her mind will become unbalanced. Her screams, after she was rescued from the flames, attracted a crowd of several hundred Southsiders to the scene.

"When the fire was discovered it was so well under way that it was impossible to save any of the building, despite the efforts of the fire department."
